Record Membership In Canadian Unions, Mitchell Reports

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian workers, emphasizing the trend towards stronger security and representation, set a record in trade union membership in 1946 with a total of 831,697, Labor Minister Mitchell announced today. This compared with 724,188 in 1944, the previous record, and 711,117 in 1945.

In a summary of the 36th annual report on labor organizations in Canada, Mr. Mitchell said the metal industries commanded the largest single industry with 19.8 per cent of the grand total. Of the total membership, 778,244 were banded in four national and international organizations. The Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, reported a total of 356,121 members; the Canadian Congress of Labor 314,025; the Canadian and Catholic Confederation of Labor 70,367; the Independent International Railway Brotherhoods 37,731.

Reports submitted by 3,846 of 4,635 known branches, showed Ontario leading with 236,729 members. Quebec was second with 208,546; and British Columbia third with 99,466. Manitoba registered 38,681; Alberta, 33,662; Saskatchewan, 21,756; Northwest Territories, 365; and the Yukon Territory, 249.

As to cities, Montreal paced other communities with a membership of 117,095. Toronto was second with 70,757 and Vancouver third with 53,582 members.

In industrial centres Winnipeg reported 29,869 members; Edmonton, 11,804; Calgary, 9,156; Victoria, 8,134.

Miles said Louis understands that if he should be knocked out in this bout, he will lose the heavyweight title.

Alternative Dates Set For Opening Of World Series

CINCINNATI (AP)—The World Series will begin Tuesday, Sept. 30, in Yankee Stadium if the New York American League club and the Brooklyn team of the National League win the pennants in their respective circuits.

Should the St. Louis Cardinals win in the National League and the Yankees in the American, however, the series would open Oct. 1 at Yankee Stadium.

Two games would be played there, Oct. 3 would be an open date to enable the clubs to go to St. Louis. Games would be played in St. Louis on Oct. 4, 5 and 6. Should additional play be needed, Oct. 7 would be an open date, so the clubs could go back to New York for the end of the series.

If the Dodgers and Yankees are the World Series contenders, the first two games will be played at Yankee Stadium, the next three at Ebbetts Field, Brooklyn, and the final two, if needed, at Yankee Stadium.

The decisions were reached at a meeting today between baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler and representatives of the leading clubs in the two pennant chases.

St. Louis Scalpers Ask $50 A Seat

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Ticket scalpers were reported asking as high as $50 for a pair of pasteboards, hotels were turning hundreds away, and a World Series atmosphere had permeated the town today for the three-game series between the St. Louis Cardinals and the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers.

Reserved seats for tonight's first game have been sold out for more than a week. Speculators today were said to be asking from $25 to $50 a pair for tickets compared with the box-office price of $3.50 for two.

Fog Blacks Out Fancy Backstop

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—That fancy glass backstop, pride of the San Francisco Pacific Coast League club, fogged up last night—and the fans behind it had to move.

Since its installation, replacing the conventional wire screen, fans have been able to sit directly behind the plate with unimpeded view. Wednesday night, for the first time, one of San Francisco's summer fogs clouded it.

Fans wiped the bottom panels clean, but the upper two were frosted—add out of reach.

'Park Murder' Acquittal Denied

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mr. Justice Coady today refused a motion for dismissal of a murder charge against Elmer Johnson, accused of the Stanley Park slaying of Mrs. Norma Burton, June 22.

Defence Counsel A. H. Fleishman sought the dismissal. "It seems the accused has been put in the position of proving his innocence instead of the Crown trying to prove his guilt," said Mr. Fleishman.

"I think there is some evidence," said Mr. Justice Coady in announcing his decision.

Butter Tops Dollar In New York Stores

NEW YORK (AP)—Butter sold at $1.05 today in some New York stores, and at 90 to 96 cents in others, but everywhere clerks told worried housewives, "It'll be higher tomorrow."

Wholesale prices jumped 2½ cents a pound. A leading grocery chain, which held its price at 90 cents today, said, "That means we'll have to raise it tomorrow."

Polio Epidemic May Be Abating

VANCOUVER (CP)—Health officials here today are hoping the current poliomyelitis epidemic may have been halted, or at least considerably slowed up, with announcement that there have been no new cases reported during the past two days.

Medical Health Officer Stewart Murray said: "We are glad to have this respite, and hope it indicates an end to the epidemic. But we are keeping our fingers crossed."

Meanwhile, the total in the Greater Vancouver area remained at 138, 110 of the victims having been released from hospital with little or no after-effects.

CBC News Editor Returns To Work

OTTAWA (CP)—Dr. Augustin Frigon, general manager of the CBC, announced today that D. C. McArthur, who resigned recently as chief news editor, has requested that his resignation be reconsidered and will continue in that position.

In a 200-word statement referring to the three recent resignations from the CBC, Dr. Frigon said of Mr. McArthur:

"Realizing that his somewhat precipitate action was based on a misconception, he has expressed his regret and requested his resignation be reconsidered. It has been agreed that he will continue in his present position as chief news editor."

British Shipments To Be Affected If Layoff Protracted

TORONTO (CP)—Some 1,900 employees of the Toronto plant of Canada Packers Ltd. will go on strike at 6 p.m. tomorrow, it was announced today by Local 114 of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (C.I.O.).

The union said that the employees voted 1,063 to 19 in favor of a strike. About 40 per cent of the union's members did not vote.

OTTAWA (CP)—Meetings of the Canadian Meat Board in Toronto Wednesday were merely routine and had no relation to the present developing packing-house strike, F. F. Baird, manager of the board, said here today.

He said it was too early to estimate what effect the strike situation would have on shipments abroad, but a continued strike might force a reduction of shipments.

"He continued: 'The effect of the strike on shipments abroad as well as the effect on Canadian consumers will depend largely on the duration of the strike and the number of companies involved. If the strike spreads into all the large companies, certainly the meat board which gets only surplus supplies for shipment abroad will be forced to cut back on shipments.'

"In the case of all the larger companies becoming involved, Canadian consumers would also probably be faced with a cut-off of meat supplies or at least a reduction to the minimum which could be imported."

Victoria housewives refused to panic today and calmly bought only their usual supplies of meat while butcher stores remained well stocked.

A canvass of packers in Victoria indicated that supplies would be adequate for at least another week despite the strike in all the main packing plants across the country. Most of the butchers, anticipating a possible shortage when the strikes first started, have put in heavier stocks than usual and this may tide the city over if the strikes do not last too long.

Reg. Williams, head of the Vancouver Island Meat Dealers' Association, reported that butchers intended to allocate their stocks on a day-to-day basis so long as they lasted in an effort to spread out available supplies as far as possible.

It has been estimated that with the continuation of the strike 80 per cent of Victoria's meat supply will be cut off. Only two plants, Gainers and Pacific Meat, are still in full operation. These plants are not expected to produce increased supplies, and there is a possibility that a good portion of their produce will be directed to hospitals and other essential users.

U.S. Army Aircraft Crashes, Killing 3

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—A U.S. army C-47 twin-engine cargo plane with a crew of three aboard crashed 30 miles south of Denver early today, public relations officers at Lowry Field reported.

They said the three were killed when the transport crashed into Spruce Mountain, near the town of Castle Rock.

Wreckage of the aircraft was found by Sheriff John Hammond, who said the plane struck a sheer rock bluff.

Pavlucoff Still Hunted

VANCOUVER (CP)—Police are investigating the possibility that Walter Pavlucoff, 33-year-old suspect in the slaying of bank manager S. S. Petrie, may still be in Vancouver. A Vancouver woman, Muriel Miett, reported today she had found a shabbily-dressed man eating blackberries from her garden Wednesday night. She said the man resembled Pavlucoff.

Social Credit Leader Urges Empire Conference To Aid Britain

OTTAWA (CP)—Solon Low, leader of the Social Credit Party, today released the text of a letter to Prime Minister King urging the Canadian government to call a Commonwealth conference for the purpose of discussing ways of helping Britain in her crisis.

Mr. Low said "it would be very difficult for the British government to take the initiative in calling such a conference... at the present time for obvious reasons."

"I am thoroughly convinced that you will have overwhelming support from the Canadian people if your government takes the initiative in this matter," he said in the letter dated Wednesday.

RESULT OF SACRIFICES

Outlining the need for a conference, Mr. Low said:

"There are two aspects of the British economic crisis which must be considered. In the first place, the acute hardships and the privations which are being inflicted upon the people of the British Isles are the direct result of the heroic sacrifices which these people made during those critical months of the war when Great Britain stood alone as an island fortress between the forces of totalitarianism on the one hand and the democratic countries of the world on the other.

"At that time, Russia was the ally of Nazi Germany, and the United States was still a friendly neutral. Surely our memories are not so short that we have forgotten the amazing courage, the unflinching determination and the defiant resistance of the British people, but for which the whole course of the war might have been different. Moreover, when we consider the price paid by Britain in life, loss of property, and depletion of economic resources, it is all too plainly evident which country made the greatest contribution to victory in the late war.

"I am convinced that it would be a shameful betrayal of all that we owe to the people of Great Britain if we failed to go to their assistance in the crisis which they are facing as a result of their sacrifices in the war.

"The other aspect of which we must take cognizance is that the economic plight of Great Britain and the far-reaching effects this is likely to have, constitute a deadly menace to the future of the British Commonwealth, and should be of particular concern to us in Canada. I do not need to elaborate on this, as the ugly facts are all too evident.

"The only hope for the future of a chaotic world rushing headlong to disaster is a strong and firmly-knit British Commonwealth of Nations working in close collaboration with the United States of America.

LEADERSHIP BY CANADA

"Canada occupies a unique position to give leadership in bringing this about for the following reasons:

"1. In any scheme of an integrated and firmly-knit development of the British Commonwealth, Canada is the natural potential economic centre of the future.

"2. Canada occupies a key position in relation to any joint defence plans for the British Commonwealth nations and the United States.

"3. Our close and friendly relations with our good neighbors to the south places upon Canada the responsibility of setting out to gain an even clearer understanding and closer co-operation between the British Commonwealth nations and the United States."

U.S. Dollar Lack Threatens Canada, Says John Bracken

OTTAWA (CP)—John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, charged Wednesday night the government has no policy to meet the crisis arising out of the shortage of U.S. dollars and expressed his view that unless headed off, the crisis would bring with it business stagnation and unemployment.

In a speech broadcast over the national network of the CBC on free time provided for political broadcasting, Mr. Bracken said Canada's reserves of U.S. dollars rapidly were being depleted.

"Our supply of American dollars will soon be exhausted, and if in the meantime nothing is done to alter the situation, there will be a crisis in this country," he said. "In our case it will not be a crisis of bread; it will be a crisis of steel and coal and oil—a crisis that if not headed off, will bring business stagnation and unemployment in its trail."

"We are dependent on the United States for approximately 60 per cent of our coal supplies. If this worsening situation is allowed to develop, one immediate hardship we will face is that of vital coal supplies."

"As to steel, we are apt to forget when we look at Canadian steel industries, that in many cases they are dependent for essential materials on imports from the United States. The simple fact is many of them could not carry on without United States imports."

Gen. McNaughton Or Wilgress Likely To Represent Dominion

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's representative on the Security Council of the United Nations, if the Dominion is elected, may be Dana Wilgress, one of the most experienced and competent members of the diplomatic service, or Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, according to present indications.

It is expected—although it is not certain yet—that early in the second session of the U.N. General Assembly opening in New York next Tuesday Canada will be chosen a non-permanent member of the 11-member Security Council for a two-year term.

She would replace Australia, whose term will expire at the end of this year, when Canada would take over.

Current speculation here focusses on Mr. Wilgress, former Ambassador to the Soviet Union and at present Minister to Switzerland and head of the Canadian delegation to the International Trade Conference in Geneva, and Gen. McNaughton, Canadian member on the Atomic Energy Commission of the U.N. and Canadian representative on the Canada-United States Joint Defence Board.

The appointment would have to be made within a comparatively short time of Canada's election to the Security Council to enable the representative to prepare for this exacting assignment. Of the two names mentioned Mr. Wilgress seems to have an edge, for it is doubtful if Gen. McNaughton could be persuaded to drop his other duties, which would be necessary for the new job.

A "Good Neighbor" Policy on Party Lines Will Bring Better Phone Service

There are now more party-line telephones than ever before and our telephone exchanges are carrying too big a load of telephone calls. The problem is that we are trying to give service to as many people as possible with the limited facilities available. As a result, the standard of service has deteriorated.

Party-line telephone users can help to relieve the present trying situation by adopting a "good neighbor" policy toward those with whom they share the line—that is, by

- (1) Making their telephone conversations shorter, and
- (2) Reducing the number of non-essential calls.

'Not Thinking Of Retiring', Premier King Tells Press

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister King indicated today he has no immediate thoughts of retirement and said: "I am just going to keep right on working."

Returning to the capital from a two-day visit to his old home in the Kitchener, Ont., area, Mr. King was asked by the Canadian Press whether there were any developments in his plans for retirement, indicated in the 1945 election campaign.

"Oh, I have nothing to say about that," said the Prime Minister. "I am just going to keep right on working."

NO AUTUMN SESSION

At the same time, he also discounted speculation about the possibility of a fall session of Parliament.

"I haven't seen those reports," he said, adding: "And I haven't any thoughts of a fall session."

Wearing a grey suit with a red rose in the buttonhole, Mr. King looked to be in the best of health as he stepped down from his private car at the rear of the forenoon Montreal-Ottawa train. He had spent a day on private business in Montreal after leaving Kitchener.

Walking down the Union Station concourse, he chatted briskly and enthusiastically about his home town visit and said it was the "most pleasant visit of my life."

He paused on the platform to wave his cane and shout "Thank you for the ride" to the locomotive engineer.

All in all, he felt "much better" physically for the holiday. It was a "most delightful" trip. He had visited his "beautiful" old home. "I never realized before what a foundation a home is to one in after years," said Mr. King. "You only begin to realize it late in life."

He said he had not yet been able to make a start on his memoirs. He would like to, but had been "too busy."

Atomic Report Adopted; Russia, U.S. Swap Charges

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (AP)—The United Nations Atomic Energy Commission today adopted its second report to the Security Council by a vote of 10 to 1 with Russia opposed and Poland abstaining.

The report came after the United States and the Soviet Union had bitterly accused each other of impeding the work of the commission.

The vote on the first report last year, embodying the principles of the Barchin plan, had been 10 to 0, with both Russia and Poland abstaining.

There is no veto in the Atomic Commission, but the Soviet Union will be able to kill it with a veto if desired in the Security Council.

Shortly before the vote, Frederick H. Osborn, United States delegate, charged Russia had consistently attempted to impede constructive work in the commission.

Answering Andrei Gromyko's slashing attack on the United States by Russia Wednesday, Osborn told the commission that Russia must realize the only atomic control treaty acceptable to peoples of the world "will be one which does away with national rivalries" and provides "real security."

Osborn said the United States approved "wholeheartedly" the second report now before the commission.

In his attack Wednesday Gromyko charged the U.S. was attempting to create a world atomic trust and dictate its atomic will on all nations.

Cabinet Changes In Britain May See Bevin Moved

LONDON (Reuter) — The possibility of changes being made in the British cabinet before Parliament resumes Oct. 20 was conceded in informed quarters today.

Recent speculation has linked the names of Hugh Dalton, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Sir Stafford Cripps, President of the Board of Trade, with such changes, but trusted quarters discount this possibility.

The political world expects some top level cabinet reshuffle to take place after the conclusion of the Big Four Foreign Ministers' London conference in November.

Foreign Secretary Bevin is vitally interested in that conference and would be unlikely to consider any change in his personal position before its results are known.

Bevin's admirers have for some time been casting him for the role of economic director of Britain's whole effort to achieve industrial recovery.

Dalton is believed to have entertained an ambition to occupy the Foreign Secretaryship.

Official announcements in recent days strengthen the belief that a cabinet reshuffle at an early date will leave Prime Minister Attlee in charge of the government.

Speculation also has been busy with the names of Arthur Greenwood, Minister Without Portfolio and Labor Party treasurer; Fuel Minister Shinwell and Defence Minister Alexander.

Greenwood has been named as a possibility for a government position in the House of Lords and Shinwell, chairman of the Labor Party, may be transferred to another portfolio.

Apple Pickers Needed

VANCOUVER (CP)—An acute shortage of experienced apple pickers is threatened in the Okanagan district, where it is feared fall frosts will destroy thousands of dollars' worth of fruit if sufficient help is not obtained. An appeal for pickers was broadcast today by the Dominion-Provincial Farm Labor service.

PORTLAND, Ore. — The Oregon Bankers' Association today posted a $1,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of robbers in any future Oregon bank hold-up.

B.C. Tourist Record Foreseen By Eyres

Trade and Industry Minister E. T. Eyres said today that the tourist influx to British Columbia this year would smash all previous records.

Statistics supplied by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics showed that during July of this year 37,856 cars entered the province through border ports under travelers' vehicle permits, as compared with 30,313 in July, 1946.

The total for the year to July 31 is 109,946, compared with 94,862 for the same period of 1946.

"Taking the average carload as 3.75 persons, this represents 412,297 visitors coming in by car through border ports," said Mr. Eyres. "This takes no account of the enormous numbers entering British Columbia through the interprovincial boundary and by train, bus and steamship."

Firm Investigating Pulp Mill Sites

Four representatives of Bowater Pulp and Paper Co. of the United Kingdom are touring Vancouver Island in search of likely sites for a new pulp mill. Lands and Forests Minister E. T. Kenney reported today.

The party conferred with Mr. Kenney before leaving on their up-island mission to look over timber stands and possible mill sites.

While it is impossible to get money out of Britain at the present time it is thought that the company has resources outside the United Kingdom or may plan to build the mill with capital raised in this country.

Grain Exchange Chief Says Big Loss Felt By Farmers On Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP)—Stanley N. Jones, re-elected president of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today, charged that the federal government's grain policies had resulted in Canadian farmers receiving at least $22,000,000 less than their U.S. neighbors "for the same number of bushels of wheat, oats, barley and flax over the last two crop seasons."

Expressed in dollars per acre, the loss to Canadian farmers was estimated at $5.30 less for every acre every year, "or an average return per farm of $2,000 less for every grower on 233,000 grain farms in western Canada."

Members of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange "are anxious and willing that everything in our power should be done to assist Britain in her extremity," Mr. Jones continued. "But the method adopted in this instance is one with which we cannot agree."

"Whatever may be done in aid of those overseas in need should be done by the whole citizenry and not by any one part of it alone. Any subsidy in price or the making of a gift should be a charge upon all taxpayers and not upon agriculture alone as is the case with the British wheat agreement."

"There was no need to set up a state monopoly to achieve this end, to supply the people of the old land with wheat at a price below the world price."

EDMONTON (CP)—Alberta's 41st case of poliomyelitis—seven of which have been fatal—was reported officially today by the provincial health department.

A TIME TO PREPARE

HOW LONG IT WILL BE BEFORE THE people of Greater Victoria insist on municipal administrative amalgamation for their own long-term good remains conjectural. On the basis of a resolution which Alderman F. G. Mulliner plans to place before the City Council tomorrow, and on realization of the hopes he entertains that the other municipal units will follow suit, a definite step toward unification could be taken in December. The alderman suggests a referendum on the issue. That would not be binding. But it would inform the elected representatives of the attitude held by the citizens on this matter.

As we have noted before, amalgamation can be achieved in three ways. It can be the result of co-operative action between the different municipalities voluntarily forming one large civic entity—the most desirable approach. It can be imposed from above by the provincial government. Or it can be an evolutionary development of a piecemeal type in which various services are combined throughout the community. Already the latter trend has set in. Education is now administered by one combined board. Health agencies are moving in the same direction. Under this system, however, municipal councils tend to lose their control—are relegated to the position of a bill-paying body without authority to determine programs.

The news columns are continually referring to projects which are either desirable or essential in the community now under four different administrations. In many instances, integrative work on these major undertakings would be of infinite assistance in their accomplishment. This does not suggest that Victoria, Oak Bay and Esquimalt should assume the burden for sewer and water improvements needed in Saanich, for instance, or that the city should be required to carry the load for a more adequate water supply to Oak Bay. But joint planning on these two items indicates the benefits that could be furnished by an approach to community requirements through a single agency that had the interests of all, not just one locality, as its guiding force.

The referendum suggestion is a good one. Before it is put to the voters, it will be necessary to reveal to them that many of the hypothetical barriers to amalgamation are more mirage than substance. Information must be disseminated. And the point should be kept in mind that time wasted now, when the community has before it wide opportunities for expansion, cannot be recaptured when evolutionary forces press the different municipalities into one unit, whether they have prepared themselves for such an eventuality or not.

FORTUNATE POSITION

CANADIAN HOUSEWIVES, FACED with rising costs which eat into their weekly budgets, may congratulate themselves that they are not in the worse predicament of their counterparts in the United States, where dollar-a-dozen eggs, dollar-a-pound butter and dollar-a-pound meat are predicted for the near future. Already meat has hit this figure in some American localities, and eggs and butter are within a few cents of it. The Dominion policy that called for a less hasty lifting of wartime restrictions and controls and a longer imposition of rationing has helped us to avoid some of the more intensive outgrowths of inflation, even though the controls are now a thing of the past. And although the Canadian price index is still rising, and may be expected to continue its increase somewhat before supply and demand approach equilibrium, our situation in this respect is better than that of almost any other country in the world.

PICTORIAL PUBLICITY

MODERN SCIENCE HAS MADE GREAT strides in the facilitation of communications and the spread of information since the old days of personal observation and word of mouth reporting. The vast development of the popular press, both daily and periodical, and the growth of radio broadcasting, television and other media, have made easier the efforts of the man who has a story to tell and wishes to make it known. Playing no small part in this development is the rise of the moving picture film as a means of publicizing information in an attractive and entertaining form. People who would not take the time to read an article on Canadian wheat, or listen to a lecture on that subject, will readily look at a movie depicting the Dominion's grain harvest, and absorb considerable information in so doing.

This is the idea back of the efforts of the National Film Board in producing pictures dealing with life in our country. According to Mr. Ross McLean, Commissioner of the N.F.B., who is visiting this city, nearly 60 foreign countries exhibit the Board's output, with a consequent distribution of information about Canada and Canadians and presumably a growth of good will and international accord. Latin American countries in particular, Mr. McLean says, have welcomed the educational film output of their far northern neighbor, with an interest which has in some cases led to the establishment of new and profitable trade channels.

Such a development is to be given every encouragement, particularly in respect of the South American republics. Canadian policy of recent years, while it has avoided formal group commitments such as the Pan American Union and the organization arising from the Chapultepec conference, has increasingly sought contact with South America on the commercial and diplomatic plane. Our government and trade representation there has been expanded, and the way opened for future intercourse on an augmented and mutually-satisfactory scale. Apart from the international aspects of the Board's production, the films can and do play an important part in teaching Canadians about themselves. In a country as large as ours, where it is not given to everyone to travel as much as he might wish, the on-the-scene reporting of the motion picture camera is a powerful factor in fostering domestic understanding and co-operation. The efforts of the National Film Board in this regard provide a valuable encouragement to the highest form of citizenship.

WARNING TO HUNTERS

IN A WARNING TO HUNTERS LAST year, an eastern Canadian paper urged them never to shoot at a deer until they had seen it clearly, and not to shoot at all if the deer happened to be sitting on a log, filling its pipe and wearing a red hat. Such a caution against trigger-happiness seems timely as those Greater Victoria men and boys, who find pleasure in the pursuit, prepare for the opening of another hunting season.

While many citizens of this community would be much happier if weapons were restricted to cameras, they realize such a proposition is merely a fond hope. But they have ample justification for their misgivings over the incompetence of some who carry guns. Under these circumstances, it behooves all hunters to see that a full measure of responsibility is accepted by their numbers. Tragedy occurs all too frequently in the woods. Human life may be at stake when mere movement in an adjoining bush brings a bullet speeding from a rifle in over-anxious hands. Very definite precautions are necessary to minimize risks. A good hunter is familiar with them and practices them. Those who are less experienced, we suggest, should place themselves under the leadership of a careful and thoughtful senior for the expeditions they make after game.

Nor should they neglect other safety elements in the woods. To what extent the fire hazard will have been eliminated by opening day will depend to a considerable degree on the weather during the remainder of this week. Far too often heedlessness by a hunter has resulted in extensive destruction to timber stands entailing a loss not only to commercial interests but to the nimrods themselves through the creation of barren hillsides.

MANY A MIDGET MAKES . . .

INDIVIDUALS ACQUAINTED WITH THE progressiveness of the Nuffield organization will have little inclination to discount the optimistic estimate of $5,000,000 sales of the firm's M.G. Midget sports car to North American purchasers within the next 12 months. The total admittedly is high, when difficulties of production in Britain are taken into consideration. The good will which this outstanding manufacturer of automobiles has created, however, will be a material factor in attracting buyers for such machines as are available.

On this side of the Atlantic, the trend in previous years has emphasized the larger car of Canadian or United States manufacture. Different features are automatically apparent in the small British vehicle and the larger native product. However, during the war, when gasoline conservation was a matter of high import, many drivers became accustomed to the operation of the former, and indications are that familiarity with the Nuffield M.G. Midget, or its counterpart, has established a firm market for this type of automobile. To all interested in Britain's quest for dollars, the reported demand for the machine will be heartening news.

VALUABLE TRAINING

BOTH FOR THE IMMEDIATE PROTECTION it affords young school children and for the longer range influence it may have in making them safety conscious, the plan to extend the Victoria public schools traffic patrols is worthy of commendation. The system, inaugurated and financed by the Kiwanis Club at certain locations, has proved its merit. Under properly identified monitors the arrangement reduces the hazards at intersections over which the little ones must cross.

The safety patrol checks the heedless child and re-emphasizes to all motorists their responsibilities when passing through school zones. By observance of the instructions of the older students, the smaller boys and girls are given a convincing lesson in caution at a time when they are most impressionable. As the latter grow up, the instruction they have received should make them more appreciative of the courtesies expected of them when they assume control of automobiles. For the monitors themselves, moreover, the duties they are required to perform should be beneficial in underscoring that sense of responsibility required from the more mature.

Walter Lippmann

THE COLD WAR

THE POLICY of containment, which Mr. X recommends, has to be enforced at "a series of constantly shifting geographical and political points, corresponding to the shifts and manoeuvres of Soviet policy." It demands the employment of American economic, political, and in the last analysis, American military power at "sectors" in the interior of Europe and Asia. This requires, as I pointed out in a previous article, ground forces, that is to say reserves of infantry, which the United States does not possess.

The United States cannot by its own military power contain the expansive pressure of the Russians "at every point where they show signs of encroaching." The United States cannot have ready "unalterable counterforce" consisting of American troops. Therefore, the counterforces which Mr. X requires have to be composed of Chinese, Afghans, Iranians, Turks, Kurds, Arabs, Greeks, Italians, Austrians, of anti-Soviet Poles, Czechoslovaks, Bulgars, Yugoslavs, Albanians, Hungarians, Finns and Germans.

THE POLICY can be implemented only by recruiting, subsidizing and supporting a heterogeneous array of satellites, clients, dependents and puppets. The instrument of the policy of containment is therefore a coalition of disorganized, disunited, feeble and disorderly nations, tribes and factions around the perimeter of the Soviet Union.

To organize a coalition among powerful modern states is, even in time of war and under dire necessity, an enormously difficult thing to do well. To organize a coalition of disunited, feeble and immature states, and to hold it together for a prolonged diplomatic siege, which might last for 10 or 15 years is, I submit, impossibly difficult.

IT WOULD REQUIRE, however much the real name for it were disavowed, continual and complicated intervention by the United States in the affairs of all the members of the coalition which she was proposing to organize, to protect, and to lead and to use. Her diplomatic agents abroad would have to have an almost unerring capacity to judge correctly and quickly which men and which parties were reliable containers. At home Congress and the people would have to stand ready to back their judgments as to who should be nominated, who should be subsidized, who should be whitewashed, who should be seen through rose-colored spectacles, who should be made clients and allies.

Mr. X offers the prospect of maintaining such a coalition indefinitely until eventually the Soviet power breaks up or mellows because it has been frustrated. It is not a good prospect. Even if Americans assume, which they ought not, that their diplomatic agents will know how to intervene shrewdly and skillfully all over Asia, the Middle East, and Europe, and even if they assume, which the Department of State cannot, that the American people will back them with a drawing bank account of blank cheques both in money and in military power, still it is not a good prospect. For Americans must not forget that the Soviet Union, against which this coalition will be directed, will resist and react.

IN THE COMPLICATED contest over this great heterogeneous array of unstable states, the odds are heavily in favor of the Soviets. For if the United States is to succeed she must organize her satellites as unified, orderly and reasonably contented nations. The Russians can defeat her by disorganizing states that are already disorganized, by disuniting peoples that are torn with civil strife, and by inciting their discontent which is already very great.

As a matter of fact this borderland in Europe and Asia around the perimeter of the Soviet Union is not a place where Mr. X's "unassailable barriers" can be erected. Satellite states and puppet governments are not good material out of which to construct unassailable barriers.

A DIPLOMATIC WAR

conducted as this policy demands, that is to say conducted indirectly, means that the United States must stake her own security and the peace of the world upon satellites, puppets, clients, agents about whom she can know very little. Frequently they will act for their own reasons, and on their own judgments, presenting the United States with accomplished facts that she did not intend, and with crises for which she is unready. The "unassailable barriers" will present America with an unending series of insoluble dilemmas. The United States will have either to disown her puppets, which would be tantamount to appeasement and defeat and the loss of face, or must support them at an incalculable cost on an unintended, unforeseen and perhaps undesirable issue.

'Ah, C'mon, Fellas! Gimme A Lift, Will Yuh?'

Britain's Inland Waterways Still Serve

From London Calling

RIGHT ACROSS

the face of Britain extends a vast network of canals, with a total length of nearly 5,000 miles. Although these artificial waterways were constructed in a more leisurely age than our own, many of them still form a useful part of the nation's transport system. Indeed, the main commercial routes today provide a direct and convenient link between the factories in the Midlands and the chief coast ports.

For the most part, the canals traverse lonely countryside, remote from the high roads; but you catch interesting glimpses of them in and around the towns they serve en route. There is a soothing rhythm in the chugging sound of the motor-driven barges, moving low in the water, which carry all kinds of heavy merchandise from coal and steel to potatoes and manufactured fertilizers.

A RACE APART

The men and women who work the barges on their long journeys are almost a race apart. There are about 50,000 of them, most of whom were born and bred on the canals. Today, as for generations past, these "water-gypsies" continue to cope with the many problems involved in rearing their families in the cramped living quarters of their floating homes.

Britain's canal folk are hard-working, good-humored, and stoutly independent in character. Few of them would exchange their wandering life for greater comfort and higher-paid jobs on dry land.

These people love color. They decorate the woodwork round the cabins with the traditional designs of hearts, roses, and castles which have been in use for generations. Water-cans and buckets are brightly painted in the same way. And, inside these cabins, every shelf and corner is enlivened with colored china-ware, highly polished cans, and, among other things, horse-brasses.

You will rarely come across a barge without its horse-brasses. These are the most treasured possessions, and are handed down from father to son, a relic of the days when horses were used for towing everywhere.

HOMES AFLOAT

The women work just as hard as the menfolk, helping at the locks and taking their turn with the steering, besides looking after the families and keeping their tiny homes spotlessly clean and bright.

Children, too, learn to take a hand in running the barge as soon as they are old and strong enough. The education of these children is still something of a problem. In years gone by, of course, there was none at all, and it is quite rare to find any boatman past middle-age who can read or write.

Round about the beginning of last century, the canals played an important part in the development of industrial Britain. They enjoyed an era of such amazing prosperity that their future seemed well assured.

But the coming of railways dealt them a severe blow, for horse-drawn barges could not hope to compete with this faster means of transport. Moreover, there were over 60 separate canal undertakings at that time, and lacking unity of any kind, they were in no position to meet the new threat to their monopoly.

So many owners, foreseeing the loss of their capital, tried to persuade the railway companies to purchase their waterways. Although some 1,200 miles of canals were subsequently taken over by the railways, a century of steady decline followed, and almost half the existing system fell into disuse and became derelict and forgotten.

REGAINED IMPORTANCE

Today, however, the chief canals have regained much of their lost importance, though it took a national emergency for their value to be properly recognized. During the war, every available barge was pressed into service; new crews were specially trained; and every month well over 1,000,000 tons of vital cargoes were carried in the inland waterways to relieve the congested railways, and, in addition, to save coastal shipping.

Just as they served the nation so well in wartime, so the canals are now helping in the great task of Britain's industrial recovery and export program.

Austerity Without Precedent

U.K. Information Office

BRITAIN HAS LEARNED the details of what is to be the first installment of the government's plan for securing the rigorous economies necessary to narrow the gap between foreign expenditure and the nation's earnings. These were announced in a statement issued by the Prime Minister recently from Downing Street.

The statement says: "The development of the situation has made it necessary for the government to accelerate and intensify the measures already taken." As a result, Britain is now undertaking voluntarily an austerity program so rigorous as to be without precedent in peacetime. It is estimated that these new economies, with those announced by Mr. Attlee in Parliament earlier last month, will reduce imports by £228,000,000 sterling ($912,000,000) a year.

A detailed announcement is to be made in the second week of September on plans to raise the volume of exports to 140 per cent of the 1938 level by the middle of next year and to 160 per cent by the end of it.

TRAVEL BAN

Foreign travel and motoring for pleasure are being entirely prohibited as from Oct. 1. The most ration is being reduced and will now enable each person to buy each week one shilling's worth as compared with the previous allocation to the value of one shilling and twopenny. In addition public luncheons and dinners are to be restricted, while from Sept. 14 most catering establishments will have imposed upon them a cut in food supplies of from 15 to 18 per cent of their present allowances. This reduction will not, however, apply to canteens in factories and offices nor to restaurants catering mainly for industrial and clerical workers for which no canteen facilities are available.

Faint Smile

Winnipeg Free Press
Professor A. Zvyorkin, writing in Pravda (which in Russian means "truth"), attacks four Soviet textbooks used in the Russian schools. They are denounced because they say that Edison invented the electric light bulb, Watt the steam engine, Stephenson the locomotive, Morse the telegraph and Marconi the wireless.

With a perfectly straight face the professor declares that Russian scientists invented all these things. It appears that the western nations, "like beasts of prey," penetrated into Russia in the loose days of the Czar, stole all these secrets and claimed them for their own.

Imports of certain luxury foods are being entirely banned. A detailed list of the items concerned is being issued shortly. Further adjustments in the point values of certain foods are therefore being made. The monthly allocation of points has already been reduced just recently from 32 to 28 for each ration period.

RATION ABOLISHED

Motoring for pleasure is being ended by the complete abolition of the basic petrol ration. This has been sufficient for 270 miles of travel on the average each month. Holidays abroad are affected by an immediate reduction in the foreign exchange allowance from £75 ($300) to £35 ($140) on all journeys made before Oct. 1. After that date all facilities for foreign currency for pleasure travel will be suspended. Business men going to the continent are to be allowed to spend £8 ($32) a day instead of the present allocation of £10 ($40).

Visitors from overseas will not be affected by the reduction in the period during which guests may stay in hotels without a ration book. As from Sept. 14 this will be cut from four nights to two, but tourists from abroad may still benefit from the fact that they can stay in hotels in Britain for 28 days before an application for rationing documents becomes necessary.

Global Survey

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
A.P. Foreign Affairs Analyst

The European crisis is rapidly worsening and State Secretary Marshall says that temporary aid, which only the United States Congress can authorize, must be provided this year "to meet the immediate threat of intolerable hunger and cold"—an intimation that he thinks a special session of Congress will be needed, and a sharp reminder to the American public of further heavy cash expenditures to be met.

Simultaneously London has made an urgent plea that the United States take over the major portion of Britain's occupation costs in Germany, totaling $386,000,000 yearly, and there are reports in Washington that the request will be granted. This comes on top of the estimate by the 16-nation conference in Paris that the United States will have to provide some $21,000,000,000 over a period of four years to make the Marshall rehabilitation program function.

These fresh obligations hit the American taxpayer on a raw and very tender spot—his pocketbook. He is especially concerned in view of the rising cost of living in his own country, and is uncomfortably reminded that the United States spent over $287,000,000,000 towards "winning" the war. He recalls that the Axis powers surrendered in 1945, and he wants to know "what the heck" that's a natural reaction, and it comes hard for your columnist—with frugal Scotch blood in his veins—to have to point to a fallacy in the idea that the Second World War really is over.

A war of such magnitude reaches a momentum which can't be stopped by a yell of "enough." The form changes, but it still grinds on as an economic catastrophe because of the vast expenditure in human lives and in resources of all kinds.

Therefore the further sacrifices Americans are being asked to make now must be regarded as part and parcel of the obligations of the war which they should like to regard as concluded.

To put it coldly, if the eastern hemisphere should go under economically, the western hemisphere could scarcely hope to avoid disaster.

Then, too, the crucial battle of the isms is being fought in Europe. The western hemisphere's front line is there.

MAKE IT A GIFT

Edmonton Bulletin
It is a very suggestive coincidence that alongside the story of Britain's new privations should appear the story that Canadians are getting immediately and unexpectedly three more pounds of sugar apiece.

Thus, every family of at least two people will have six pounds of sugar that they did not count on having.

What could be more appropriate that at least five of those six pounds should go to friends in Britain?

OVERWORKED WIFE

Lester Powell in the BBC
London Letter

The editor of the Communist Daily Worker received a facer the other day from a housewife reader. She raised a point which Karl Marx and Engels overlooked. "What about the so-called Communist who exploits his wife?" is what she wants to know. "I work from 8 to 6," she says, "and I have to shop, wash, sew, clean and cook in my spare time. And while I'm doing it, 'He' is out shouting: 'Down with Serfdom!'"

WHERE NO VETO WORKS

Washington Post
The announcement by the Atomic Energy Commission of a plant which controls the release of energy from the splitting of plutonium atoms came on the same day that the Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister, Mr. Gromyko, finally rejected the plan for an international atomic control agency. Mr. Gromyko can veto world-wide agreement on atomic power. But he cannot veto scientific progress in harnessing the atom to work for mankind. While he closes his mind to what is happening at Los Alamos and raves about American attempts to establish an atomic monopoly, he rejects the one scheme that would make it feasible for all peoples to benefit from the adaptation of atomic power to peacetime industrial uses.

Douks Discuss Move To Vancouver Island

NELSON (CP) — Possibility of a movement from the Kootenay district was subject of individual discussions by members of the orthodox Union of Spiritual Communities of Christ during the height of the current incendiary wave, it was learned Wednesday night.

John Bloodoff, senior member of the group and a resident of Brilliant for almost 40 years, raised the point in discussions with newspaper reporters.

Sons of Freedom members revealed that at least two families had returned to Krestova from the Hilliers community on Vancouver Island, and that a number of Slokan Valley Doukhobor families were considering the possibility of moving to Vancouver Island or the Okanagan district.

Kansas Farmers Slow To Sell Wheat Despite Price Spiral

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Kansas farmers agreed today there has been no rush to market this year's record wheat crop despite the upward price spiral, but many of them differ on reasons for holding back their grain.

Grain men are reluctant to estimate the amount of wheat still unsold by farmers but some placed the figure at about 50 per cent of the crop.

At any rate wheat is moving slowly. In western Kansas towns the scenes of last July when blocks of trucks waited to unload are no more. At Hays, Kas., deliveries have been limited to a few loads daily. For the last two weeks shipments from Kansas City have exceeded receipts.

One reason that nearly all grain men gave was the traditional wheat belt saying that the fellow with wheat in storage is going to keep it right there on a rising market.

Most significant of the other answers:

1. Absence of apparent reasons for the price to decline. They point to a continued world demand.

2. Income taxes. Some farmers placed this reason first on their list of why they didn't sell.

NOT FORCED TO SELL

3. Favorable financial position of the farmers. In such a situation they are under no compulsion to sell against the judgment of their best interests.

4. Fear of drought and short crop in 1948.

5. Protection against their own needs for feed in view of prospective shortages of corn, alfalfa and milo.

Dan Pfeiffer, manager of the Farmers' Co-operative Elevators at Hays and Toulon in the middle of the wheat country, added another.

The wheat farmers, he said, remember what he termed the "unfair deal" they got two years ago when they sold their wheat in response to pleas from the government.

"The average farmer sold his wheat and the big farmer held his," Pfeiffer recalled. "Then a few months later the government declared a 30-cent bonus. The farmers haven't forgotten that."

Held In Sternist Plot

Paris detectives identified Rabbi Baruch D. Koroff (above) of New York City as one of the men arrested in a round-up of alleged Stern Gang Jewish extremists who reportedly had plotted to bomb London from the air. Rabbi Koroff was seized at an airport, police said, carrying two suitcases jammed with leaflets which read: "This is a warning! We will carry the war to the very heart of the Empire!"

Cup-Cakes To Livestock Exhibited By Youngsters At Metchosin Farmers' Fair

Chatting on the success of the fair as they stand before the arts and crafts display are, left to right: Mrs. T. E. Strathern, convener of the home-cooking sections, in which there were 100 entries; Miss M. Fernie, convener of arts and crafts, and Mrs. J. Woods, convener of the junior section.

Looking at a few of the vegetable exhibits at the Metchosin Farmers' Institute Fair are: Mrs. W. H. Parker, Mrs. M. Fisher, Mrs. G. C. Watkins, Miss Beryl Pears, holding Sharon Watkins, A. Godfrey and W. Grant.

Hard-working fair committee pose with "Lady," who took first prize in the family cow class. Left to right are: A. R. Hiscock, president, with daughter, Gloria; D. Richards, director; F. J. Willway, vice-president; A. E. Carlson, director; F. H. Staverman, poultry convener E. D. West, secretary, and J. Woods, convener of livestock.

LUXTON—They call it "the show window" of the district—the annual fall fair staged by the Metchosin Farmers' Institute—and Wednesday, in Luxton Hall, friends and visitors from neighboring districts found the "show window" packed with produce of field and orchard and country kitchen.

The second annual venture of its kind by the institute was visited by more than 500 people throughout the afternoon and early evening. Maj. L. W. Johnson, superintendent of Farmers' Institutes, opened the fair. Maj. Gen. G. R. Parkes, V.C., M.P., gave a brief address in which he congratulated all exhibitors.

"You made a start last year with a small fair," he said. Today you have doubled the number of entries and we hope it will be an even bigger show next year."

Exhibiting at the fair out in this district is just as much a job for children as their parents.

The youngsters had entries in everything from home cooking to livestock.

First prize for the best calf in the show went to 8-year-old Ernest Richards, a pupil at Happy Valley School. Ernest has taken care of the three-month-old calf since its birth. Raymond Woods, 12, took first prize in the showing of family cows.

Pretty little Joan Middlemiss, 9, wearing a tartan suit and big smile, saw a blue ribbon for first prize placed atop her dish of cup cakes. It was quite a day, for she said Mother took only a mere second in another department of home cooking. Edith Turner, 15, won first prize for her cake.

"We encourage youngsters to take part in the fair and to like life around home in the country rather than in cities," said F. J. Willway, vice-president.

"We had about 400 people out to our first fair and expect 600 to this one. We want to have these fairs grow every year."

Among the hardest-working people at the fair were members of the Luxton and Happy Valley Women's Institutes. Taking charge of various sections were Miss L. M. A. Savory, Mrs. A. Turner, Mrs. T. E. Strathern, Miss M. Fernie and Mrs. J. Woods.

There were 486 entries in the 133 classes and judges found the quality of exhibits good. A giant cabbage won a prize for W. H. Smith of Colwood, while Carolyn Hiscock took first prize for her marrow, and Eileen Turner first for mangels. Home preserves of all kinds were exhibited and the home-cooking even included Christmas cakes.

Judges were: W. H. Pope, poultry; Alec Turner, cattle; J. McIntyre, sheep and horses; Mrs. M. A. Foulds, home-cooking; C. Jeffrey and J. Woods, vegetables, flowers, fruits; Mrs. G. F. Weir and Mrs. S. Lewis, arts and crafts.

On the fair committee were: A. R. Hiscock, president; Mr. Willway, D. Richards, A. E. Carlson, F. H. Staverman, E. D. West and J. Woods.

Top honors were given Mrs. R. E. Laurence in the section for bottled fruit, vegetables, meat and fish. Mrs. J. Woods had the highest aggregate in home cooking while Mrs. Mina Christie, a recent bride from Scotland took first prize for her pancakes. At the flower show, W. H. Benson won first prize for his dahlias.

In the sheep and horse section, awards went to Alec Turner Sr., for a pen of three sheep and to Alec Turner Jr., for the best lamb cared for by a child. Best child's saddle pony was entered by Victor Woods. Best heifer was entered by J. Blenkinsopp.

A continuous moving picture show was presented by B.C. Electric Railway Co., featuring "Reddy Kilowatt" in their own tent at the fair grounds.

Lunch was served to the judges and officials by the Luxton and Happy Valley Women's Institute, who afterwards served afternoon tea, hot dogs and ice cream to the visitors. Pony rides were given the children by J. Woods.

An auction of vegetables and home cooking which was authorized by the owners, was held at close of the fair with W. Allen acting as auctioneer.

6 Alberni Delegates To U.B.C.M. Convention

PORT ALBERNI—Six delegates will represent the twin cities of Alberni and Port Alberni at the annual convention of the Union of B.C. Municipalities at Harrison Hot Springs, Sept. 15, 16 and 17.

From Port Alberni will be Mayor W. C. Hamilton, president of the union, Aldermen L. K. Jordan, J. Woodford and G. Folkard. Mayor C. C. Cocks and Ald. G. Richardson will represent Alberni.

Two Port resolutions will ask clarification of a section of the Public Schools Act dealing with collection of school tax, and partial relinquishment by the Dominion government of amusement tax on municipal amateur sports.

The Alberni resolution recommends that part of gasoline tax collected by the provincial government be rebated to municipalities for upkeep of roads.

Big Lignite Deposit Near Toledo, Wash.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Bureau of Mines estimates that more than 8,000,000 tons of lignite coal can be obtained from a two-layer deposit nine miles east of Toledo, Wash.

About 5,317,000 tons of the reserve, located in Lewis County in the heart of the wartime fuel famine area of the Pacific Northwest, can be recovered by strip mining methods, the bureau says in a technical report describing the deposit.

The deposit—nearly a mile long and a quarter-mile wide—was explored during the war when northwestern industries were being fed with fuel transported from the Rocky Mountain region.

STOKE GOLDING, Leicester—The spire of 15th century Stoke Golding church, removed during the war because it obstructed take-offs from adjacent R.A.F. airfields, is being replaced.

Ernest Richards, 8, shows off the three-month-old calf he exhibited. It won a blue ribbon.

Pretty, blonde Joan Middlemiss, 9, who won first prize for her cup cakes at the fair, takes a little time off to cuddle one of the rabbits exhibited.

"Mmmm, good!" say Miss L. M. A. Savory, on the left, and Mrs. A. Turner, as they compare notes on a prize-winning lemon pie and cake. The cake was baked by Mrs. Turner's 15-year-old daughter, Edith.

Gentleman Burglar Given 2 Years For London Crimes

LONDON (CP)—The case of an aging burglar, who defending counsel said was "past his best years of crime" because he was getting deaf and couldn't hear how much noise he made on a "job," was featured in the crowded London newspapers today.

A kindly word was devoted to the plight of 71-year-old "Gentleman Fred" Harding, who would like to go straight but who pleaded guilty at the Old Bailey Wednesday to a charge of breaking into a Kensington apartment and stealing £250 ($1,000) worth of jewelry.

Though he admitted a record of 14 previous convictions dating back to the First World War, there were several character witnesses to back up the high regard the police had for Fred when he was not stealing. The grocer for whom Fred worked—in the daytime—said the accused had "a very kind streak in his nature" and often gave away candy to the neighborhood children which he had bought with his own money and coupons.

CARRIES 123 KEYS

Police also have a high professional respect for Fred. The constable who arrested him told the court:

"On searching him at a police station they found 123 keys in Harding's pockets.

"Nice, aren't they?" said Fred. "I make 'em myself. Get me into or out of anywhere, they would."

"I'm right, see if they can get you out of here," said the detective on duty, locking the massive station door.

Fred selected one of the bunch and within a few seconds the door swung open again.

"He assures me he's through with crime," said counsel. Said the judge: "But I am worried about these skeleton keys—two years."

Excommunication For Yugoslav Attackers

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Sacred Congregation of the Council of the Roman Catholic Church today announced the excommunication of the aggressors of Rev. Father Milo Bulesich, who was killed, and Msgr. Jakob Ukmar, who was wounded, in a disorder Aug. 24 at Lanišče, in the Yugoslav zone of Venezia Giulia.

The announcement said that "all those who physically or morally participated in committing the crimes or who were a necessary part have incurred excommunication."

Msgr. Ukmar, Vatican prelate sent into the area to impart the sacrament of confirmation, was arrested by the Yugoslavs and charged with inciting a riot. He was held at first in Fiume hospital until he recovered from his injuries, and then was taken to jail. He faces trial by a peoples' court next Monday.

The Vatican communique said Father Bulesich, parish priest at Lanišče, was killed while attempting to defend Msgr. Ukmar.

Reports from the Yugoslav zone said that besides Msgr. Ukmar, Rev. Father Stefano Cek, eight partisans and nine so-called "white" Yugoslavs, or Conservatives, would be brought to trial.

The Vatican, on Oct. 14, 1946, announced excommunication of all those responsible for the trial of Archbishop Stepinac of Zagreb, sentenced to 16 years' imprisonment for crimes against the Yugoslav state.

Colorful Flowers Add Charm To Early Autumn Nuptials

Profusion of mauve asters decorated St. John's Anglican Church Wednesday at 8.30 for the marriage by candle light of Miss Flora Macdonald, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Macdonald, 1320 Balmoral Road, and D'Arcy William Frankland, youngest son of Mrs. Mary Frankland, Toronto, and the late Edward John Frankland.

Rev. George Biddle conducted the double service. Mrs. Fred Hawes sang "I'll Walk Beside You," and wedding music was played by F. Chubb. The bride was given in marriage by her father. Traditional satin fashioned her period gown with lace trimmed neckline, fitted bodice, full skirt caught at the hemline with lace rosettes, and scalloped pleat forming a full train. A tiara of seed pearls held her veil, embroidered in silk, and in pleasing contrast was her bouquet of red roses and gardenias. The bride wore her groom's gift, a blue zircon ring.

Old rose satin fashioned in classic Grecian mode was worn by sister of the bride, Mrs. H. Downard, as matron of honor. Her off-the-face hat was of black mohair, and she carried a bouquet of pink charm carnations.

Identical gowns of silk crepe fashioned with high necklines, cap sleeves, and tapered pleats over full skirts, were worn by the trio of bridesmaids. Miss Pamela Butcher was gownned in rich gold, Miss Cathryn Hughes, chose lime green, and light mauve adorned Mrs. Carroll Hocken. All wore frou-frou hats and long gloves in contrasting shades, and carried bouquets of deep mauve and golden chrysanthemums. Gold chokers, gifts of the bride, added a note of importance to their costumes.

Little Donna-Rae Downard, as flower girl, was gownned in turquoise corded taffeta, Kate Greenaway style, trimmed with rosettes. She wore a matching poke bonnet and carried a Colonial bouquet of pink roses.

Harry Downard stood with the groom as best man. Ushers were Walter Wilson, Jim Robinson and Bob Pollock.

Mrs. Macdonald and Mrs. Percy Wilson, aunt of the bride, assisted in welcoming guests at a reception at the home of the bride's parents. Toast to the bride was given by E. Hughes. White candles in rose-shaped holders, flanked the three-tier cake.

For the wedding trip to Vancouver and Portland, the bride changed to a palomino beige gabardine suit, with matching hat, green lizard skin accessories and green orchid en corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Frankland will make their home in Victoria.

St. Alban's Scene Of Nuptial Rites

Rev. F. E. M. Tomalin heard the marriage vows of Miss Amy McClatchey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. McClatchey, Liverpool, England, and William Douglas Hanson, son of Mrs. E. M. Hanson, 2545 Victor Street.

St. Alban's Church, decorated with gladioli, asters and pink heather, was the scene of the rituals Tuesday at 8, in which Tom Fisher gave his cousin in marriage.

The bridal gown of white suede lace, designed with square ruffled neckline and skirt slightly en train, was enhanced with a veil of misty net cascading full-length from a coronet of orange blossoms. Her groom's gift, a gold wrist watch, and a gold locket completed the bride's ensemble, and she carried a shower bouquet of scarlet roses, white carnations, heather and stephanotis.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Audrey Turner, was gownned in pale mauve embossed net over taffeta, fashioned with sweetheart neckline and puff sleeves. Bridesmaid, Mrs. Gwen King, chose pale blue contrasted with shell pink in her gown with rounded neckline and cap sleeves. Bridesmaids of fresh flowers were worn by both attendants, sisters of the groom, and each carried a Colonial bouquet.

William Drane was best man, and ushers were Laurence Webb and William Turner.

St. Alban's church hall was the scene of the reception. Mrs. Hanson assisted the bride and groom in receiving guests. A three-tier cake, flanked by vases of gladioli and asters, centred the bride's table.

Following their honeymoon at Qualicum Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Hanson will reside at 2545 Victor Street. The bride wore for traveling a pastel blue two-piece frock, with light grey topcoat, black accessories and corsage bouquet of gardenias and carnations.

Indian Folklore Interests Russian Researcher

Fanya Kosowitzky, pictured in the Indian Art Room at the Provincial Museum, where she has spent much of her time during her stay.

"The wealth of information on Indian folklore contained in Victoria's Provincial Library has completely conquered me, historically," says Russian-born Fanya Kosowitzky, in a husky, slightly accented voice.

Her skin, bronzed in the sun during an extensive summer tour, the petite traveler admits with a disarming smile, that she has overstayed her intended visit here by several days.

Miss Kosowitzky is engaged in research on authentic Indian dances and costumes, seeking the meaning behind these traditional rites, which she interprets into her own dances.

Prior to her arrival in Victoria, she visited Toronto, Winnipeg, Banff and Jasper.

"My stay in Banff coincided with a three-day Indian festival, and to my delight I was able to add much data to my collection," she laughed. "While in Banff I gave several performances in folk dancing."

"I have been interested in international folklore and dancing since my early childhood, when I traveled extensively in Europe with my family," she says, and then added enthusiastically, "I believe the way to really know people is to study their customs."

A New Yorker for the past 12 years, this energetic young woman is a nursery school teacher by vocation, working with children of pre-kindergarten age. When summer rolls around, she devotes her time to her hobby.

"On previous tours," she says, "I have studied folklore native to Russia, Yugoslavia, Poland, Germany and also the Bahama Islands. At present my main interest is with the American Indian."

Miss Kosowitzky will leave shortly for New York, with a stopover in Seattle, but she plans to return again next year, to do further research.

Greatly impressed with Canadian hospitality, she says, with many gestures of her expressive hands, "If this policy of friendliness and helpfulness were carried on all over the world, it would bring trust and peace to every country."

Motor To Spokane On Wedding Trip

The bride, escorted by her father, was gown in gleaming satin enriched with a fragile lace panel down the centre-front with the same lace trim on the neckline and fashioning the bodice at the back. Her full-flared skirt was slightly in train. A coronet, ornamented with brilliants, held her chapel veil, and she wore a single strand of pearls. Red roses and white gladioli were showered in her bridal bouquet.

Bridal attendants were Mrs. Kenneth Nelson, matron of honor, in orchid nylon embossed in floral design over satin; Miss Jean Major, bridesmaid, wearing soft blue, and Miss Patricia Moore, junior bridesmaid, in shell pink. All wore halo head-dresses trimmed with a plume of deeper color, and carried asters in harmonizing tones.

Gordon Bell attended his brother as best man. Roy Bell, also brother of the groom, and Bob Lymberry were ushers.

Mrs. A. Chattle sang "Through The Years," during the signing of the register.

Richard Sneddon gave the toast to the bride at a reception at North Ward Community Hall. Mrs. McAdams and Mrs. Bell received guests with the newlyweds. A three-tier cake, decorated with pastel sweet peas, centred the lace-covered table.

Mrs. Bell changed to a gold wool dress with fox fur-trimmed topcoat, black accessories and corsage bouquet of Talisman roses and gardenias, for her going away ensemble.

Employment Totals At All-Time High

OTTAWA (CP)—Employment totals, and payrolls too, were at an all-time high in Canada at the beginning of July, according to figures released Wednesday by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

How these totals would be affected by subsequent strikes has not been officially estimated yet.

Substantial increases in industrial employment at the beginning of July over a month earlier were reported by 17,760 employers in the eight major industrial groups. General improvement was indicated in all provinces and in most groups, both manufacturing and nonmanufacturing. Although the expansion was seasonal in character, the percentage gain in Canada, as a whole, was slightly above the average. The combined working force totaled 1,946,032 men and women, an increase of 46,964 persons, or 2.5 per cent over the June 1 total. Weekly salaries and wages rose 2.8 per cent.

'Dark Horse' Eisenhower World-Minded

By S. BURTON HEATH

NEW YORK — Politicians are busy with one of the most un-rewarding jobs they have tackled in a long time. They are trying to find out what Dwight Eisenhower thinks about those things that might become issues in the 1948 presidential election.

The Republicans want to know in case a Taft-Dewey stalemate should develop at Philadelphia next summer. Then, if a popular movement arose to compromise on General Eisenhower, they would like to know what to expect from him both as a campaigner and — if he should win—as President and boss of the GOP.

The Democrats, too, want to get a line on Eisenhower's views. His popularity is so great that he would be a hard man to attack. They need time to canvass every angle—just in case.

FEW COMMITMENTS

Thus far, though the record has been combed pretty thoroughly, the pickings have been slight. As Chief of Staff, General Eisenhower has spoken frequently, sometimes with formality before big gatherings and sometimes off the cuff to reporters.

He has committed himself on few topics. Careful study of his public statements since the beginning of 1946 show that:

He is for:

Higher incomes for workers. More housing for veterans. The Truman Doctrine. Established American rights. The free enterprise system. Co-operation of capital and labor.

World peace through understanding friendship. A strong, effective United Nations.

Universal Military Training. A strong, prepared army and navy.

He is against:

Communism and other "vicious cults." Racial, religious or class discrimination. Premature disclosure of atomic secrets.

Speculation about the "next war."

Consistently General Eisenhower has taken the stand that it is his job to run the army, and that political speculation is bad for the army. He disclaims any political ambition. His speeches have been confined almost exclusively to urging the two things nearest his heart—world peace and national security. He says he wants to spend the rest of his life promoting these and Americanism based upon "the individual rights of every man because they are his rights."

But when he told the C.I.O. at Atlantic City, that unions should be encouraged to "seek the good things of our country's production" for the workers, he also added—"as long as these efforts are in harmony with our national welfare."

He told a group of investment bankers that a nation that spent as much as we did on war can produce housing for the men who fought that war, and it should be done without the help from Washington.

VIEWS ON CULTS

He told the Daughters of the Army of the Republic of his opposition to vicious cults that seek to weaken this country by dividing and confusing with false promises—but he added that such cults can be beaten by insistently rejecting discrimination based on class, race or creed.

On the same day, he told both the C.I.O. and a group of wealthy, powerful employers that this country can be strong, and can produce the goods needed both by ourselves and the world, only if capital and labor are united in co-operation.

He says frequently that nobody wants war, that war is not inevitable, and that he looks forward to the day when professional fighting men, will have no jobs. But he is against disarm-ment—or even weakening of our strength—until all nations join us in such a step.

He believes that it is vicious to speculate on "how, where and why the next war will be fought." But he recognizes that there is one great nation whose international goals are not like ours, and he says we must still go ahead and do what we consider to be the right thing.

We may have to give up our dream of one world, he says, and accept the reality of two. "We trust only governments that have power centralized in the people. We do not trust countries that have power centered in some military leader, dictator or oligarchy."

Yet he expresses no doubt that education and goodwill and understanding can put an end to war. His formula is simple, and in keeping with the record of his entire public career:

"Firmness, patience, a sense of humor—and keep your powder dry."

"UM-M-M! WHAT A FLAVOR-LIFT!"

One-Third Of United States Now Dry

This map tells the story of the battle for local option prohibition. More than 25,000,000 Americans can't buy a drink of liquor, 10,000,000 of them can't even buy beer in the areas where they live.

NEW YORK — The United States is drying up again, much faster than most people realize. On thousands of separate fronts throughout the country, the Drys are battling the Wets on the issue of prohibition, and in the majority of cases the Drys are winning. In 20,000 local option elections since repeal, the Drys have won 12,000.

Already a third of the nation has been dried up. Today more than 25,000,000 Americans can't legally buy a drink of liquor; 10,000,000 can't buy legal beer; all this according to Frederick G. Brownell, who assayed the growing prohibition movement for American Magazine.

Three states—Kansas, Mississippi and Oklahoma—never repealed their constitutional bans on drinking. Even in traditionally Wet cities like Chicago, 128 precincts have voted themselves Dry.

The biggest battle between Wets and Drys at the moment is being fought in Kentucky, Brownell found. Kentucky, which produces 43 per cent of the nation's whisky, already is 82 per cent Dry. Wet Kentucky, Brownell says, is drier than Dry Kansas.

There are now 82 wholly Dry counties in the state and 15 more which contain considerable Dry territory. The Drys are seeking local option elections in seven of the remaining Wet counties this fall and have an even chance of winning them, Brownell found.

One argument Drys have been unable to overcome so far is "who's going to pay the bills if prohibition returns to Kentucky?" Liquor taxes of $11,000,000 last year paid almost a third of the state's general expenses.

The problem of state revenue killed a proposed state-wide prohibition referendum in Alabama even before it got thoroughly started because no one could suggest how to replace the nearly $12,000,000 revenue that would be lost if liquor sales were banned.

Nevertheless, the Drys are pushing their campaign for return of national prohibition.

Predictions of how soon this can be accomplished vary from five to 20 years.

"Five years if the Wets don't get smart and correct current abuses," says Deets Pickett of the Board of Temperance of the Methodist Church.

In Congress, Arthur Capper of Kansas heads the Dry forces in the Senate, and Joseph R. Bryson of South Carolina, Dry "internally, externally and eternally," does the same job in the House.

Bryson estimates that 10 per cent of the present House is for prohibition as a matter of principle while most of the Southern Representatives, except those from metropolitan centres, would vote Dry as a matter of expediency.

On the national front, the latest drive of the Drys was an unsuccessful attempt to secure passage of Capper's bill to ban interstate liquor advertising. Capper believes that sentiments for prohibition is growing about as fast as it did at the turn of the century, before the passage of the 18th Amendment.

Salvationists' Help Reaches Thousands

"Many thousands of men and women never go to church, and are never reached by organized religion. Many people, through misfortune, poverty or disgrace, feel out of step with the other people in their community, and outside all ordinary concern for their welfare," say organizers of the Salvation Army drive for funds.

"To these, and to scores of others without a church, the Salvation Army goes, bringing the only religious teaching they know. With this spiritual help goes material aid, and a very real concern for their well-being. The Salvation Army ranks high in the hearts of people today because of this concern for their spiritual and physical welfare.

"Today, the Salvation Army in our community is making an appeal for financial help, in order to carry on its useful work for all mankind. Citizens should give generously, to show their appreciation of its many services to humanity."

NATIVES HUNT OSTRICHES WITH POISON-TIPPED
ARROWS

The ostrich as several claims to fame. Here are some of them: It is the largest of all living birds.

It is one of the few kinds of birds without the power of flying.

It can run faster than any other bird.

It has only two toes on each foot.

The distance from the top of an ostrich's head to the ground is from six to eight feet. The weight of a large ostrich is from 275 to 300 pounds.

We could hardly expect such heavy birds to fly. They have wings, but these are small compared to the size of the bird. They seem to help the running speed a little, but they never lift the ostrich into the air.

Ostriches are the only birds in the world with only two toes on each foot. Other birds have from three to five toes on a foot.

The emu of Australia is the second largest of the world's birds. Sometimes it is called "the Australian ostrich," but it is different from an ostrich. One difference is the fact that it has three toes on each foot.

True ostriches live in parts of northern Africa, Arabia and Palestine. They like the dry, sandy wastelands known as deserts, but now and then are found on plains and in valleys.

There is an old story that an ostrich hides its head in the sand when it is afraid of an enemy. The fact is that the bird never does such a silly thing, but it makes a mistake at times when it is being hunted. Instead of running straight ahead, and probably escaping, it circles around the hunter, and comes within range of his rifle.

Members of desert tribes hunt ostriches in simple ways. Sometimes they lie in wait beside a watering place and shoot poisoned arrows when the birds come to drink. Other hunters search until they find ostrich nests, and hide inside them. They spring up with drawn bows when the birds come back to the nests.

In southern Africa a Bushman sometimes uses a disguise to get close to ostriches. His legs are chalked to keep them from being seen easily, and he holds parts of a dead ostrich in front of him. When he gets close enough, he shoots small, poison-tipped arrows at one or more of the birds.

Grand Factor Pays Victoria Post Visit

Grand Factor J. E. Muir, of the Grand Post and of Post No. 3, Nanaimo, accompanied by Grand Secretary Vernon Stewart and Chief Factor M. Colvin of Post No. 10, Duncan, paid an official visit to Post No. 1 of the Native Sons of B.C., at Victoria, on its opening meeting of the fall season.

The visitors were welcomed by Chief Factor H. E. Alder and the officers and members of Post No. 1.

The grand factor reported that posts are being organized at Kamloops and other British Columbia points. Both the grand factor and grand secretary stressed the weighty responsibility in these times on those who are born in this province and the splendid opportunity afforded them by the unity and fellowship of the Native Sons of B.C. The winter activities of Post No. 1 were planned and the next meeting was set for Oct. 14, at the Diggon-Hibben Hall on Langley Street. The meeting concluded with a supper gathering at Terry's.

The DOCTOR Says:

GERMAN MEASLES NOT VERY DANGEROUS

By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.
German measles is one of the least dangerous of all the contagious diseases of childhood. If the infection is contracted by an expectant mother in the first two months of pregnancy, however, her child may be born with cataracts and deformities.

The disease is caused by a virus which produces a skin rash resembling early measles or mild scarlet fever.

The incubation period of German measles is two to three weeks. Early symptoms are those of a mild infection, and usually the first difficulty the patient notices is swelling of the glands in the back of the neck and behind the ears. After the glands have been swollen and inflamed for 24 hours, the rash appears.

The skin reddens and large blotches start on the face and spread to the trunk. Fading may be so rapid that the face is clear before the body is affected. On the second day, the rash appears to develop tiny white points, especially on the trunk. The throat is usually sore and the eyes are inflamed, although the fever does not become high.

Epidemics of German measles occur in the winter and spring in connection with outbreaks of ordinary measles. Epidemics develop in three or four-year cycles, and, while the disease is not as contagious as regular measles, most susceptible children develop it after exposure.

Children with German measles should not attend school during an attack. They should be kept in bed, but no special treatment is indicated.

ENFORCED EXPOSURE URGED

All children should develop German measles, as the infection is milder in the early age groups. Some physicians recommend exposing young women to the infection before they are married, if they did not have it as children, to prevent possible harm to their babies from contracting the disease during early pregnancy.

Important developmental changes take place in the eyes and hearts of the fetus during the first few months of pregnancy, and the virus of German measles affects them. Infants, malformed by German measles are usually small and undernourished and many fail to develop mentally.

Question—My 25-year-old son has canker sores. He has had them all his life, except for the two years he was in the service.

Answer—Cause of canker sores varies. At times they respond to local treatment with a cauterizer, while others seem to become chronic. These get better and worse of their own accord, and are difficult to treat.

Chandler-Macphail Tuned Up For Another Storm Session

CINCINNATI (AP)—Another "on-the-carpet" session between baseball commissioner A. B. Chandler and Larry Macphail, loquacious New York Yankees president, was anticipated today as representatives of the top teams of both major leagues met here at the commissioner's call to discuss plans for the 1947 world series.

The commissioner, it was learned yesterday, is investigating an interview attributed to Macphail in violation of Chandler's "silence" order in connection with suspension for the season of Leo Durocher as manager of Brooklyn Dodgers.

Asked about a report that a probe of Macphail was under way, Chandler said: "I'm not going to say anything about anything." Macphail said he would be in Cincinnati today for a meeting pertaining to world series matters but not to confer with the commissioner.

"Anytime Chandler or anyone else labors under the impression I cannot express my opinions on baseball he is entirely wrong."

Al Buck, a baseball writer for the New York Post, said Chandler had asked him to fly to Cincinnati for questioning in connection with the interview with Macphail last Thursday. But Buck advised the commissioner other duties prevented a conference.

Baseball writers of other New York evening newspapers said an assistant of Chandler's had asked them for copies of their stories on the interview in Washington.

FIGURES DUROCHER THROUGH

Last Friday editions of four New York evening newspapers carried accounts of the interview in which Macphail was quoted as saying it was a 100-to-1 shot that Leo Durocher would not be back in baseball next season.

Rochon Defeated By Bromwich In U.S. Tennis Play

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—

Long Bob Falkenberg of Los Angeles got up off the floor yesterday and rallied to pull out a thrilling five-set victory over Colin Long of Australia in the United States singles tennis championships at Forest Hills.

Down two sets and apparently well beaten, the coast star battled back to catch and beat the Aussie Davis Cup player, 4-6, 6-8, 6-3, 6-2, 6-4.

The victory advanced Falkenberg into the quarter-final round of the championships along with Jaroslav Drobny, the Czech Davis Cupper, who scored over Herbie Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., 2-6, 6-2, 6-1, 6-4. The two were a round ahead of the rest of the men's field.

Frankie Parker romped to a 6-0, 6-2, 6-3 victory over Bernard Destremau, French Davis Cup player, and John Bromwich of Australia had an even easier time outting Henri Rochon of Montreal 6-1, 6-0, 6-1.

Other third-round contests saw Gardner Mulloy of Miami eliminate Sumant Misra of India, 6-3, 6-2, 9-7, and Dinny Pails of Australia turn back Clarence (Nick) Carter of San Francisco 6-1, 7-5, 6-2.

SASKATOON WINS

WINNIPEG (CP)—For the second time in three nights a ninth-inning single robbed Muriel Cohen, starry hurler of Saskatoon Ramblers, of a no-hit, no-run game, as she pitched Ramblers to a 4 to 0 victory over Winnipeg C.U.A.C. in the western Canada women's senior softball finals here.

The win gave Ramblers a 2 to 1 edge in games in their best-of-five series.

Birdies Give Locke Close Golf Victory Over Leonard

VANCOUVER — In his first appearance in British Columbia Bobby Locke, South Africa's links wizard, edged out a 2 and 1 victory over Stan Leonard, Vancouver pro, here yesterday as 5,000 watched the exhibition.

Locke and Leonard will both appear in an exhibition match over the Colwood course at Victoria Sunday.

The big South African shot-maker carded a three-under par 69 while Leonard finished with an even par 72.

Leonard, one of Canada's top professionals, playing his home layout, matched strokes with Locke for the first nine holes when both were all square with 35, one under par.

Locke's magic putter and usually brilliant short game were slightly off but his drives never left the fairway. He took the match on the 16th and 17th with a couple of birdies against a par and a bogey for Leonard.

CLOSE AFFAIR

The reportedly all-time record crowd which jammed the course were kept agog as the lead changed hands five times in the seessaw battle.

Net proceeds of the exhibition match will go to the Crippled Children's Hospital in Vancouver. The score card:

Locke out	444	353	444	35
Leonard out	454	244	444	35

Adanacs Capture Lacrosse Honors

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—New Westminster Adanacs captured the Inter-city Lacrosse League title here last night as they trounced Vancouver Burrards 18 to 9 in the fifth game of the best-of-seven series.

Adanacs now will meet the winner of a series between Trail and Rossland for the British Columbia championship. Date for the final series will be set later.

Adanacs' 23-year-old goalie Gordie Togue was the star of the game as he repeatedly turned back desperate Burrard scoring thrusts from close in. Playing his first season in senior company, Togue had the Vancouver squad scoreless for the first 33 minutes of the game.

Bob Lee paced the Royal City attack with four goals, while Norm Baker, Johnny Douglas and Sonny Kadatow rapped in three each. Ernie Smith with two goals, and Roddy McLeod with one goal, were the mainstays of the Vancouver attack.

BASEBALL ATTENDANCE

By PETE SALLAWAY

MAIL MAN TAKES over the column today with a couple of interesting letters. Bill White, member of the Victoria Athletics ball team, writes from Tacoma with a request that I give him the opportunity to extend his thanks and appreciation to the fans of this city for voting him the most popular member of the club. From the trend of his note White is one member of the A's who really enjoyed his season with the Victoria Club.

WHITE WRITES: "It was a distinct disappointment that the season ended in such abrupt fashion and robbed me of a chance to publicly thank the fans for the fine manner members of the Athletics were accepted on and off the field. I would have had the opportunity to express myself at the ceremonies arranged for the game last Saturday night if the weather man had not stepped in and ended the season. I received the watch for being voted the most popular player at the smoker Saturday night but I wish it could have been presented at a home plate ceremony as was planned for the last game, and I could have thanked the people who cast votes for me."

TO THE VICTORIA FANS I want to say "thank you" for this high distinction. It is a great honor and the watch will be cherished the remainder of my life. To those who sponsored the competition I want to express my appreciation as such promotions give a ball player something to work for all season through clean play, hustle and conduct both on and off the field. I hope that baseball interest in Victoria will grow by leaps and bounds in the years that follow. In closing I just want to say good bye to my many friends in Victoria and wish them the best."

FROM AN ANONYMOUS correspondent comes a tribute to the late Capt. George McGregor. "He was an enthusiastic lawn bowler and up to the time of his last illness could be seen frequently on the greens at Beacon Hill Park. He never pretended to compete with players of the first rank, but because, perhaps, rather better than average in his proficiency. It was often his lot to skip a rink, and his cry of 'shot!' when one of his players got nearest the jack was as good humored as it was inspiring. He knew how to encourage his men, and was highly popular among members of the Victoria Lawn Bowling Club. That he will be deeply missed by them goes without saying. He was a good sport, honest and open hearted and uniformly cheerful."

Esquimalt Seek Second Win Tonight

Second game of the western Canada softball playoffs between Esquimalt, B.C. champions, and Saskatoon, prairie titleholders, will take place at Capilano Stadium, Vancouver, tonight.

Esquimalt, who won the first game in 10 innings, will probably use Ken Gunter on the hill in an effort to get a four-point bulge in the six-point series. Third game will be played Friday night with the fourth and fifth contests scheduled for Saturday.

champion Marvin (Bud) Ward of Spokane, defeated H. MacHunter, Los Angeles, 2 and 1.

Former national champion Dick Chapman of Mamaroneck, N.Y., sailed through the fourth round with a 3 and 1 victory over Jack Coyle, Springfield, Ill., but Johnny Goodman of Omaha, another ex-champ, fell before Frank Strafaci, Flushing, N.Y., 3 and 2.

Two time former amateur Mich. rugged contender since he held the United States intercollegiate title in 1937, put the skids under Bishop. The score was 2 and 1.

Johnny Dawson, 44-year-old links star from Hollywood, Calif., thrilled a large gallery by scoring and eagle three to eliminate Stranahan, 1 up on the 20th. Two time former amateur of a player, providing he complies with the regulations as embodied in the minutes of the meeting of the C.R.U. dated Feb. 23, 1946."

In two exhibition games capacity audiences have watched the Tigers and most of them came to see Filchock throw forward passes. The club figures on a big year at the box office with the Czech in their line-up and they contend he'll be the league's major drawing card at all other centres.

After reading of the Rough Riders' power as they trimmed the Dominion champion Toronto Argos 23 to 6 in the Big Four opener at Ottawa, Tiger coach Andy Mullan knows he will need all of Filchock's power to cope with the invaders Saturday.

Leads All-Stars Into Town

HUB KITTLE

Professional baseball will make its final appearance of the season at Athletic Park Friday and Saturday nights when all-star clubs of the Western International League, representing the West and East, engage in exhibition games. Kittle, crack Bremerton pitcher, is the manager of the West, with Art Lilly, Yakima, piloting the East. Three members of the Victoria Athletics, Johnny Hooper, Babe Jensen and Bill Woop are in the line-up of the West squad. Game time each night will be 8.

City Swim Championships Scheduled Next Month

The Flying "Y" swimming club will apply for a permit to stage the city swimming championships in the Crystal Garden Oct. 24. Archie McKinnon, club coach, announced following a meeting of the swimming club executive.

Plans for the forthcoming season as released by the executive today reveal that the Y.M.C.A. will adhere to its policy of bringing in top-flight competition during the winter months.

Clubs of the Pacific Northwest to be invited to participate in galas with the Y.M.C.A. include the University of Washington, Multnomah Athletic Club, Vancouver Amateur Swimming Club, Washington Athletic Club and the Ocean Falls Club. The latter swimmers showed well in the recent Canadian championships and the executive feels that an invitation to them would aid in developing many fine swimmers from that town.

A new training policy will be brought into effect at the "Y" this season embodying some of the principles used successfully in the United States.

TRAINING SCHEDULE

Schedule of intensive training will commence for a period of two months Oct. 15. The club will then lay off swimming for the next month but they will not be idle. They will engage in a muscle building course in the gymnasium. McKinnon believes that in this way the club will be at top shape for their meets and will have added strength for the gruelling competition expected.

Following the one-month athletic program the club will again swim for two months. This program is expected to remain in effect until the Canadian Olympic swimming trials take place in Verdun, Quebec, next year.

The annual meeting of the swimming club has been set for the Y.M.C.A. Oct. 10 at 7. Election of officers will take place

Cards-Dodgers Open Payoff Ball Series

This is it. The playoff series between pace-setting Brooklyn and fast-closing St. Louis opens tonight at Sportsman's Park with the Dodgers holding a shrinking 4½-game lead in the National League pennant chase.

For all practical purposes the Cardinals must do or die in the current three-game set, although the season does not end until Sept. 28. Winning two or three is almost a must for Eddie Dyer's Red Birds, who count on a clean sweep to pull the Brooks back within reach.

Manager Burt Shotton of Brooklyn used Jackie Robinson in the clean-up spot yesterday at flag, dumped Cleveland, 7 to 4, while Boston bowed to Detroit, 5 to 0, to increase their lead to 12½ games with 16 to go.

First baseman Les Fleming hit two home runs for Indians. Freddie Hutchinson hurled Detroit to a 5 to 0 edge over Boston Red Sox' Earl Johnson.

Doubles by Dixie Walker and Spider Jorgensen, followed by Eddie Stanky's third homer of the year, actually sewed up the game, breaking a 1 to 1 tie in the seventh as Joe Hatten, with relief help from Hugh Casey, tamed the Cubs for the seventh time while registering victory No. 14.

The Cards banged out 14 hits off Dutch Leonard and Charley Schanz, scoring once each in the second, fourth, fifth and sixth innings after the Phils got to Al Brazle for an early run in the second for their only score in the 4 to 1 Cardinal triumph.

Ralph Kiner, closing in on New York's Johnny Mize in the home run race, hit his 42nd and 43rd as his Pittsburgh Pirates lost to the Giants, 3 to 2. Kiner now is only three behind Mize.

Elwell Blackwell was bumped hard and retired in the seventh with a pulled muscle and his eighth loss as Boston Braves' Clyde Shoun shut out the Reds, 8 to 0, with five hits.

New York Yankees, stung by insinuations that they are back-

Canadian Legion Take Lead In Island Baseball Playoff

Smashing out 14 hits from the slants of Tony Falk and Eric Gard, Sandy Paul's Canadian Legion baseball nine last night copped a 12 to 10 decision from Duncan All-stars in the third game of the best-of-five series for the Vancouver Island baseball championship at Athletic Park. Legion lead the series two games to one.

Originally scheduled as a five-game set and then as a three-game series, the playoffs have now been put back on their original basis as a best-of-five affair. The fourth game will take place at Athletic Park, Sunday at 2.30. Fifth game, if necessary, will be played at Duncan at a date to be announced later.

Last night's contest showed little in the way of good baseball, Legion coming up with eight errors and Duncan five. Legion's bobbles accounted for majority of the up-landers' runs, Bill Prior, their ace right-hander, receiving some miserable support at times.

Though Duncan did pick up 11 hits off Prior's offerings, a number of these were of the infield variety and smart fielding would have prevented many runs. Gil Bruce, former star of the Navy nine, paced the Duncan attack with four for five, including a triple. Word from Duncan is that Bruce hit at a .512 figure during the regular season. Sonny Bruce was the only other Duncan player to connect safely more than once, banging out two hits and driving in two runs. Prior whiffed 16.

The game itself was a seesaw affair, with Duncan taking a three-run lead in the first inning only to have Legion peck away in the first four frames for seven tallies. Duncan came back with four in the fifth and one in the sixth with Legion pushing across a singleton in the fifth. In the last of the seventh the roof caved in on Eric Gard, the second up-lander hurler, Legion tallying four times to salt the game away. An oddity occurred in the Duncan eighth when three Duncan batters went to the plate, all batting out of turn. It went unnoticed by the Legion and no damage resulted as Prior struck out the side.

B.C. Thought Likely To Require Beer Vote Here In Whole Riding

The provincial government, while it may approve beer-by-the-glass plebiscites in single polling divisions is thought likely to reject any plan to have a local-option beer vote taken in only the downtown area of Victoria.

Inquiries concerning the taking of a beer-by-the-glass vote here have been made of the provincial government and organization of opposition to such a plebiscite is reported to be under way.

While several beer-by-the-glass votes have been approved to be taken elsewhere in the province next month, it is considered unlikely such a vote could be undertaken here much before Christmas.

To secure a vote a petition signed by 35 per cent of the electors in a polling division, group of polling divisions or electoral district is required. Each name has to be checked. A certain time must elapse before the setting of the date of the vote and the actual voting day.

While several of the votes to be held elsewhere in the province are being conducted only in single polling divisions, it is pointed out that these are in rural electoral districts in which a complete community exists.

A vote is also being taken in a group of nine polling divisions in the North Vancouver constituency but these form a more or less complete community.

Regulations made under the Liquor-control Plebiscites Act say: "The polling divisions to be grouped in any case for the purpose of taking the vote, shall be only such polling divisions as together form a continuous area."

Under the act, however, the government is permitted to submit plebiscites to "electors of any polling division, or group of polling divisions, or electoral district."

It is believed that the government would hold out for a vote on sale of beer by the glass here to be conducted throughout the electoral district.

Penticton Lawyer Named Counsel To Douk Commissioner

Appointment of Harold W. McInnis, Penticton lawyer, as counsel to Judge Harry Sullivan who will conduct an inquiry into Doukhobor problems of British Columbia, was announced today by Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer.

At the same time Mr. Wismer reported he was endeavoring to get in touch with federal Justice Minister J. L. Isley by telephone to ask co-operation of the Dominion government in reaching a settlement for the Doukhobor problems which have resulted in the burning of scores of buildings in the West Kootenay area.

"There will be no time lost in this matter," said Mr. Wismer. Announcement of the provincial government's intention to appoint a special commissioner to inquire into claims of the Doukhobors who have recently been involved in a sect war was made Saturday by Mr. Wismer. Appointment of Judge Sullivan is expected to be formally made Friday.

Mr. Wismer said he was checking to see who owns some of the property destroyed by fires and added that he believed some of the property burned belonged to the provincial government.

If this is the case, prosecutions will follow immediately where sufficient evidence can be obtained, he said.

The provincial government has been confronted with the problem of Doukhobors destroying their own homes, but Mr. Wismer said there is nothing in the criminal code to prohibit a man burning his own property, provided he does not endanger the property of others.

Commenting on reports that some Doukhobors had expressed dissatisfaction with the appointment of Judge Sullivan, Mr. Wismer said:

"That is not an attitude a good Canadian would take—and besides Judge Sullivan is not sitting as a judge in this case. He has the attributes to deal impartially and fairly with the whole problem."

Soil Surveys Cover 800,000 Acres

Soil surveys in the Peace River district have been wound up for the 1947 season with 800,000 acres having been covered. Lands and Forests Minister E. T. Kenney reported today.

The latest surveys bring the total acreage throughout the province under soil survey since the inception of the program to nearly 4,000,000 acres.

Meanwhile land utilization parties have carried out surveys on a further 200,000 acres in British Columbia.

The work has been done by one large soil survey party and three small land utilization parties. The soil surveys have been conducted through the combined efforts of the University of British Columbia and the agricultural and lands departments. The land utilization survey has been carried out by the lands department.

Interest Increases In Oil Resources

Keen interest in the oil resources of British Columbia is indicated today, with reports that a new petroleum exploration company has been formed and that oil had been located near Pouce Coupe in the Peace River district.

The new company is Western Consolidated Petroleum Ltd., capitalized at $300,000, with headquarters in Vancouver. In the incorporation, papers gave Charles Sheldon and Miller W. Graham, both of Vancouver, as first directors.

Earlier it had been reported at the Legislative buildings that six companies had applied to the government for oil prospecting licenses. The applications are now before the government.

A report from Edmonton said oil had been struck near Pouce Coupe by a party drilling for water and a 15-barrel-a-day flow had resulted when the drills hit the 800-foot level. The well was being drilled to secure water for Pouce Coupe village, which is not far from the Alberta boundary.

Full details of the reported oil strike are being sought by the provincial government.

Woman At Verdun Kills Self With Axe

MONTREAL (CP)—The blood-covered body of a 56-year-old woman, identified as Mrs. Elizabeth Bartlett, was found in her home in neighboring Verdun Wednesday night. Preliminary examination revealed the woman was killed with an axe.

Verdun police said today that according to the appearance of the body, the woman killed herself by repeatedly hitting herself with an axe, and one detective sergeant said that, in his opinion, "it is a case of voluntary destruction."

An autopsy will be performed.

Public Health Issue Charge Against Hindu Dismissed

Magistrate H. C. Hall, in city police court this morning, dismissed a charge against Ajahb Singh, Hindu operator of the O.K. Fuel Company, laid by the City Health Department that on Sept. 2 he permitted wood, infested with rotting sealife, to be deposited at 750 Topaz Avenue, causing a possible menace to public health, contrary to the public health by-law No. 2883.

E. S. Grapp, senior sanitary inspector, said that in response to numerous complaints of the high odor that came from the property he investigated the place, and found the slabwood covered with sealife that was dead and decaying "and swarming with flies."

It was liable to become a nuisance to public health, he said. Witness admitted there were no private residences in the immediate vicinity, but that a factory was located about 60 feet from it.

Dr. J. E. Murray Anderson, city medical health officer, was called to the stand. He told the court he had investigated the scene of complaint and saw flies hovering over the large deposit of cut wood.

The question put by Patrick Sinnott, defence counsel, was how this could be labeled a health menace. Dr. Anderson said it was the flies that were breeding there. They created a potential menace.

The matter of the spread of polio entered into the case. Dr. Anderson referred to an article in the American Medical Journal of June 28 of this year, in which an authority stated it had been proven with monkeys that flies carry the disease.

Magistrate Hall wanted to know if this disease spreading by flies also pertains to humans. This had not been proved as yet, the health officer said, but it was presumed this was the case. Mr. Sinnott wanted to know from Dr. Anderson if it was not a fact that this property was not wanted to be used as a dumping ground for wood. The reply was he did not know.

Defence counsel pointed out that the wood secured by accused came from a local mill and learned from Crown witnesses, that the mill had not been investigated for the same complaint.

In reply to questions from Claude L. Harrison, city prosecutor, Dr. Anderson said that decaying material on wood that was dumped to stay in a place for the sun made a good breeding place for flies.

It was not the same case, he continued, with regard to dead sealife on the seashores as the tide washed it twice a day, killing it as a breeding ground.

Mr. Sinnott asked for dismissal without putting his client in the witness box. Magistrate Hall granted it, noting that the matter of flies conveying the polio disease from one person to another "is only a theory and it has not been demonstrated that this is so." He considered the matter to be one that should be dealt with in a civil action.

Involved In Mishap To Fire Car; Fined

James Frank Cross was found guilty on a charge of dangerous driving this morning in city police court, was fined $40 and had his license suspended for one month by Magistrate H. C. Hall.

Charge arose from an accident that occurred to an official Victoria Fire Department car being driven to the scene of a fire by Deputy Fire Chief Phillip N. Guy on the morning of Aug. 23. According to evidence submitted, the deputy chief, after crossing Fort and Blanshard Street intersection heading south on the latter with siren blaring, was forced to swerve to miss the car of accused which swung out from behind other stationary cars waiting for the fire emergency to clear into his path. The fire vehicle went into a skid and wound up in collision with an angle-plate car on the west side of Blanshard.

Deputy Chief Guy said he was traveling between 30 and 35 miles an hour. Defendant figured the speed of the red car as about 70 miles an hour. He said he did not see that all the lights were red at the intersection or hear all the light bells going. He said he suddenly saw the red car in front of him and jerked his vehicle to a stop.

No Formal Conference

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian government does not expect there will be any formal Commonwealth conference of any kind in London at the time of the wedding of Princess Elizabeth and Lieut. Philip Mountbatten, it was learned here today.

Good Wind Blew Ill To St. Roch Imprisoned For Winter In Arctic

EDMONTON (CP)—Supt. J. D. Martin of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, who has just returned from a 17,000-mile aerial inspection in the Far North, told in an interview here today how a "good" wind blew "ill" to the R.C.M.P. patrol boat in the western Arctic.

Captained by Sub-Inspector Henry Larsen, famed Arctic navigator from Victoria, B.C., the power schooner St. Roch was barked by ice in an attempt to cruise from Coppermine, 1,000 air miles north of Edmonton, to Winter Harbor, site of a proposed new weather station. Winter Harbor lies on the south shore of Melville Island, 500 miles closer to the geographical north pole.

At first the wind stood the St. Roch in good stead, making possible successful passage of Prince of Wales Strait, after the ship had voyaged north from Coppermine, and through Coronation and Amundsen Gulfs. Banks Island shielded the strait from ice, and the St. Roch easily reached the northern mouth and the 600-mile point in her 800-mile journey.

Then the good wind blew ill. For it had packed Viscount Melville Sound solid with ice, starting at the northern mouth of Prince of Wales Strait. Only 200 miles from her destination across the sound, the St. Roch was forced to turn back to Coppermine.

The heroic little ship probably will winter in the Arctic this year, Supt. Martin said, and make an early attempt next summer to reach Winter Harbor. The St. Roch was outfitted in Victoria and provisioned in Vancouver for the voyage.

Supt. Martin said health and food supply of the western Arctic Eskimos are generally excellent and the supply shortage caused by late ice had been overcome by rapid ship movements.

Victoria Scientist On Lengthy Tour Of U.S. Observatories

Now in the U.S. visiting observatories and conferring with scientists on research problems is Dr. Andrew McKellar, a staff member of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory at Saanich.

At a meeting of the American Astronomical Society at Evanston, Ill., Dr. McKellar presented a paper of his own studies and papers by Dr. R. M. Petrie of the Saanich Observatory, and William Buscombe, of the University of Saskatchewan.

At this meeting Dr. McKellar was invited to a symposium to talk on isotopes in the stellar atmosphere, a subject on which the Victoria scientist is an authority.

In continuing his tour, Dr. McKellar will meet and talk with staffs of the Yerkes Observatory, the Ann Arbor Observatory and Lake Angelus Observatory in Michigan.

He will return to Victoria Sept. 20, but is expected to first visit Dr. C. S. Beale, Dominion astronomer, at Ottawa, and the Lick Observatory, Mount Hamilton, and the Mount Wilson Solar Observatory, Pasadena.

Native of Victoria and a member of a pioneer city family, Mr. Courtney was for many years associated with the law firm of Yates and Jay. He was in general practice, specializing in estates in recent years.

The Courtney family had their home on Cook Street and Rockland Avenue and Courtney Street was named after Mr. Courtney's father. The deceased was a bachelor. His brother, Knox, predeceased him several years ago.

Mr. Courtney, who practiced law in the Kootenay country, was well known as a returning officer for the B.C. government.

Mr. Courtney, who was called to the bar and admitted as a solicitor in July of 1894, was one of the oldest practicing lawyers in the city. His sole survivor is a cousin, Mrs. Ross Gardiner, with whom he made his home.

Town Topics

Victoria Fire Department was engaged for more than an hour this morning putting out a bush-fire on the Horton Mill property. Fire was reported at 11:40 and the trucks returned to the station at 1:02, the fire being in the area between the mill and Point Ellice. A small fire started against the side of a house by hot ashes at 1214 May Street was quickly extinguished earlier this morning. Last evening, at 9:05, firemen put out a fire that had been started by shavings in a new house under construction on Linden Avenue, north of May Street.

Four stitches to the back of her head were required by Norah Adamson, 18, 140 Menzies Street, as a result of injuries suffered when the bicycle she was riding was in collision with a car at Pandora Avenue and Cook Street Wednesday afternoon. She was proceeding south on Cook and crossing Pandora and collided with a car police said was traveling east on Pandora driven by George Allan, 2327 Dalhousie Street. She was treated at Jubilee Hospital.

Offer Of 500 Wartime Homes For Victoria From U.S. Cities

The possibility of bringing several hundred war emergency houses from Bremerton and other U.S. Pacific Coast centres was being canvassed today by G. K. Gosling, representing the North Pacific Construction Co., who interviewed Ald. R. A. C. Dewar, chairman of the lands, zoning and housing committee.

The proposition, as outlined by Mr. Gosling, Ald. Dewar said, was to obtain a large block of city land to make a sub-division into which 400 to 500 of the emergency houses would be moved. He indicated that the company has approximately 30,000 of the houses and could bring up any number for which they could get lots.

He suggested that the city grant the land on a dollar a lot basis and be repaid from a portion of the rents for the necessary services which would have to be installed. He indicated it would be a low-rental housing project, to be amortized over a six-year period.

There is little likelihood that the housing project can be placed within the city boundaries, Ald. Dewar indicated, because the city does not own any such large tracts of land and the company is not interested in placing the houses in isolated lots among other houses, but prefers to make a community out of the project.

Mr. Gosling indicated to Ald. Dewar that he would interview officials in the other three municipalities of Greater Victoria to see if his houses could be placed there.

World Food Pool Planned By F.A.O. To Meet Threatened Famine

GENEVA (Reuter)—The United Nations Food and Agricultural Organization conference today unanimously decided to establish a world food council.

Officially the council will be known as the "Council of the Food and Agricultural Organization of the United Nations," but the conference accepted a Netherlands proposal that it be generally known as the World Food Council.

The new council will not be as powerful as the world food board proposed by Sir John Orr, director-general of F.A.O., at the organization's last assembly at Copenhagen.

Sir John proposed the world food board have authority to create a world food pool for the purchase, sale and distribution of foodstuffs on a world-wide basis.

But the "council of the Food and Agricultural Organization" as laid down in the recommendations evolved Tuesday night will be only an advisory body to aid in co-ordinating national and international policies in relation to food.

The strength of the new council will be in the fact that its members will be government spokesmen instead of private individuals.

A report adopted on the world food situation said that "shortages and famine may provoke or sharpen social unrest in countries where reasonable minimum living standards are not enjoyed and may easily be contributory to international disorder or even conflict."

Toronto Man Shot By Thug Who Escapes

TORONTO (CP)—Morris Singer, 47-year-old operator of a tobacco and newsstand, who was shot in the abdomen early today by a thug who accosted him on the veranda of his west-central house, was still semi-conscious 10 hours later.

Police were unable to question the man to obtain details of the shooting.

But from two persons who witnessed the attack, they learned the robber climbed over the railing of the veranda and told Singer: "Okay, drop your wallet."

"I won't," Singer replied. Then the thug fired.

Police were told that as Singer gasped, "You've shot me!" the robber replied: "I know I have—and you'll get another—if you don't give it (the wallet) up."

The thug fled along the dark street and disappeared. Police said there was no trace of the wallet.

It was learned the body of one of the men was believed fed to dogs. The deaths occurred a month ago.

Asks December Vote On Amalgamation

Ald. F. G. Mulliner will ask the City Council Friday to hold a referendum on the question of amalgamation, he said today. He added he hoped the other three municipalities would approve similar referendums for the December elections. If the voters approve the idea, he suggested, definite plans then could be drawn for the method of union.

Strike Halts Furniture Output Here

Picket line at entrance to plant of Pacific Furniture Manufacturing Co.

Operations in the Pacific Furniture Manufacturing Co. plant, 878 Viewfield Road, were completely halted today by the strike for higher wages of the International Woodworkers of America (I.W.A.).

The strike which started at 10 Wednesday morning was only partially effected then because, according to union officials, of a misunderstanding among the workers in the plant. Officers of Local 1-118 of the I.W.A., the Victoria local, said some workers had failed to answer the union's strike call because of plant rumors that the strike deadline had been postponed pending of negotiations in Vancouver.

The plant employs 31 persons. Union officials today said that only a foreman and a maintenance man had been admitted through the picket lines this morning, and they therefore described the walkout as 100 per cent effective.

The strike is the first in Victoria since British Columbia's new Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act became law last May 15.

Negotiations in the strike have been carried on entirely in Vancouver. R. V. Stuart Research Service Ltd. representing the employers, and the I.W.A. district office representing the employees.

Besides the 30 out here there are 1,000 on strike in Vancouver and New Westminster furniture making plants.

GOVERNMENT PROBE

Meanwhile an investigation of the strike is being undertaken by the provincial labor department. Acting Labor Minister E. T. Kenney commenting on the strike said "the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act will be enforced. That is government policy."

Provided for in the act are penalties, for striking without having conducted a government-supervised strike vote. Officials of Local 1-118 of the I.W.A. have admitted they did not ask for a government supervisor in a vote conducted by the I.W.A. before the strike was called.

Picketing at the Pacific Furniture Manufacturing plant is being carried on almost entirely by the plant employees, the strike being the only one in progress here today.

While almost all strikers are on the picket line today union officials indicated that should the strike continue beyond the end of the week the picket forces would be divided into shifts and the lines maintained with smaller forces.

No picketing was done during the night.

TO HALT SHIPMENTS

With the entire working force out on strike now, the picket lines are being maintained only to prevent possible attempts to remove supplies from the plant or to bring in more raw materials.

Feeling among the pickets is that the strike will not last long. Pickets admit that at the present time the area of difference between the union and the employers is small and they believe the two parties may be brought together shortly.

The union is demanding a wage boost of 12½ cents per hour and a minimum of 69½ cents per hour for women workers.

Salmon Output 132,494 Cases

Salmon fishermen, experiencing a midseason lull in sockeye fishing, last week produced enough salmon for 132,494 48-pound cases, according to a report today of the federal fisheries department.

Sockeye fishing in the Fraser River opened this week. It has been brought almost to a complete halt in the northern districts earlier.

The pack last week brings the total output for the year to 917,177 cases—a pack exceeded during the past six years only by the record 1945 pack which at this time totaled 1,265,087 cases. The pack this year is well ahead of the 1946 pack, which at this time stood at 693,598 cases.

The pack this year, with corresponding totals for last year, is as follows: Sockeye 258,270 (327,955); springs 8,399 (6,983); steelheads 2,639 (3,272); blueback 4,527 (2,864); coho 84,394 (62,322); pinks 346,111 (105,496) and chums 202,834 (184,660).

5 Barns In Gilpin Area Razed In Fresh Doukhobor Outbreak

NELSON (CP) — Weary-eyed farmers cast anxious glances at the pre-dawn sky over the West Kootenay district today searching for the tell-tale glow of new fires following a fresh outbreak of arson among defiant Sons of Freedom Doukhobors.

Wednesday five barns were razed by fire in the Gilpin area near Grand Forks, about 60 miles southwest of here, causing damage estimated at more than $10,000 and raising to some $60,000 the total loss since Aug. 15 from known or suspected arson attacks.

A total of 12 barns situated at Krestova, headquarters of the Sons of Freedom group about 25 miles northwest of Nelson, Salmo and Gilpin have gone up in flames in the last four days. Eleven fires occurred on Sons' farms. Salmo is 20 miles south of here.

The "sacrifice" fires marked a new trend in the religious strife between orthodox Doukhobors and the Sons. The Sons, who claim a membership of more than 2,000 persons, charged that the rival group is "too worldly" and that it does not adhere to true Doukhobor religion and beliefs.

Last month Sons of Freedom residing at Krestova unhesitatingly admitted to police officials they had burned community-owned homes occupied by orthodox members and openly announced their intention to continue arson attacks "at the first opportunity."

INVESTIGATION COMING

Meanwhile government officials at Victoria rushed plans for formation of a one-man commission to investigate the menacing sect strife and to suggest methods of reaching a lasting solution to the problem.

Provincial police investigating the Gilpin fires said members of the Sons of Freedom group there readily admitted setting the fires in that area.

Reinforced police patrols were thrown into the Gilpin area today following threats by Sons spokes-

'Calcutta' Exciting Film Entertainment

A new Alan Ladd picture is always the signal to get set for exciting film entertainment, and his latest Paramount adventure, "Calcutta," fulfills that promise of a fine time at the movies.

The picture, which co-stars Ladd with Gail Russell and William Bendix, arrived today at the Atlas Theatre. Directed by John Farrow, who has a number of hits to his credit, including "Blaze of Noon," "California," and "Two Years Before the Mast," "Calcutta" takes that Ladd-with-the-gun to faraway India, a wonderful setting for high adventure and thrilling romance.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Looking for excitement? Then hurry to the Capitol Theatre and see "Johnny O'Clock." Columbia's suspenseful melodrama. For viewing this streamlined job, co-starring Dick Powell and Evelyn Keyes, is like taking a ride on a roller-coaster, it's so full of thrills and chills.

of the dapper, big-shot gambler who played fast and loose both with women and the law, gives a dynamic characterization. Evelyn Keyes, as a lovely showgirl who succumbs to the charms of the attractive rogue, gives a charming performance.

James Davis Gets 7-Year Contract At Hollywood Studio

By ARMAND ARCHERD
(For Bob Thomas)

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The brothers Warner are taking no chances of losing Bette Davis' new leading man, James Davis. He has been signed to a long-term contract.

Jim will play the male lead in "Winter Meeting" and Bette's opinion of him encouraged Jack Warner to offer the seven-year deal. Needless to say, Jim accepted.

In appreciation, he asked Miss Davis if she'd like him to change his name.

"Heck, no," Bette said. "If it's good enough for me, it should be good enough for you."

TAKING OVER

Diana Lynn is now reported taking over for Betty Hutton in "The Sainted Sisters." Betty, awaiting her second child, goes into temporary screen retirement. As you might imagine, the script will undergo considerable rewriting. Diana could hardly play the role a la Hutton. . . . Dick Haymes' production company will put its first effort before the cameras next April. The boss, however, does not plan to be in the initial film if he can help it. "If it's a stinker," Dick said, "I won't be blamed."

Greer Garson, whose activities in Hollywood have been limited lately to the divorce courts, will start acting again late this month in "Speak to Me of Love." You will recognize the story as "The Nutmeg Tree." . . . Lauritz Melchior will donate his Metropolitan Opera salary to the Met to help them buy and build new sets.

"My salary here (at M.G.M.)," he said, "I will keep for myself."

NOT THE TIME

Bill Mauldin dropped into Hollywood while on vacation to have the option on "Up Front" picked up again. Although U-I want to make the film, they believe, as most studios, that this is not the time to make a war story. . . . Announcements are out for the Jane Withers-William Moss Jr. wedding Sept. 20. Feel a little older? . . .

NO BREAK FOR JANE

Jane Wyman gets no break in the wardrobe department. In "The Yearling," she wore but one dress and in "Johnny Belinda," in which she portrays a deaf mute, she has but one gown. That's one way to save production costs, boys. . . . Bob Hope returns to the air waves Tuesday and says he doesn't care "if the show is good or bad. One thing is certain—it will be different."

Failed To Destroy Berlin Tower

Smoke and debris (top) obscure a huge air raid shelter and flak tower in Berlin's Tiergarten, as British army engineers blast the building with 50,000 pounds of TNT. Members of the German press crouch in the left foreground for protection. But when newsmen examined the result (bottom) they found that the explosion failed to destroy the tower.

Americans In Prussia Lonely

The U.S. flag flies over a 30-by-50-yard patch of U.S.-occupied land in the Russian zone of Germany. For bored GIs, over the fence is "out of bounds."

By AL COCKING

NAHMITZ, Russian Occupied Germany—On the edge of this Prussian farm village, deep in the Soviet zone, lies a patch of land, 30 by 50 yards, with the United States flag flying over it.

By agreement this fenced-in island is populated and administered by a handful of American soldiers who leave it only in case of emergency. No one sets foot on America-in-Prussia without permission of the outpost commander.

Because of the boredom at the outpost, the American command in Berlin rotates its island dwellers every two weeks.

Nahmitz outpost serves as an aid station for allied travelers on the autobahn which runs past it. This stretch of road, 112 miles long, is the only link for Americans, British, and French between Berlin and the western zones of Germany.

The GIs are there to cope with accidents and emergencies on this stretch where communica-

World Flivver Fliers Now On Way To Bagdad

CAIRO (AP) — Two former U.S. army pilots hopping around the world in easy stages aboard two Piper Cub planes today took off from Cairo for Baghdad, 808 statute miles away. They expected to make it in seven hours.

Clifford V. Evans of Washington and Saskatchewan-born George W. Truman of Los Angeles, the pilots, arrived here Tuesday after a non-stop flight from Rome. They left the United States Aug. 9.

ROYAL THEATRE

Bing Crosby and Barry Fitzgerald, the team which thrilled the film-going world a few years ago in the memorable "Going My Way," are back together again in a picture that is reported to have done the impossible—top that masterpiece. The widely-acclaimed new titleholder is Paramount's "Welcome Stranger," which has been receiving enthusiastic welcome at the Royal Theatre with golden-haired Joan Caulfield co-starring.

tions do not exist and the travelers are completely cut off from the rest of the world.

The troops, consisting of medics, ordnance, signalmen, and constabulary troopers, are on duty 24 hours daily. They do not mind it too much because there is nothing to do until an emergency arises.

The nearest other Americans are 27 miles to the east. The entire Russian zone is off-limits. "No alcohol, no frauleins" is the standing rule here. A few magazines and some pieces of sports equipment are the only amusement facilities.

'Thursday's Child' Family Life Story

"Thursday's Child," the Associated British picture which gave Sally Ann Howes and Stewart Granger their start toward stardom, is showing at the York Theatre.

Co-starred with Wilfrid Lawson, Sally Ann Howes was only 14 years old when selected to play the leading part in this homey story of comedy and drama in a suburban family.

It is the story of a schoolgirl's sudden and unexpected rise to prominence as a child film star following a chance visit to a film studio.

DOMINION THEATRE

A gay and sparkling comedy, starring Olivia de Havilland and Robert Cummings, is the screen offering at the Dominion Theatre. Entitled "Princess O'Rourke," the Warner Bros. attraction promises something special in the way of light comedy. The story has to do with a real princess, exiled in New York, who meets up with a lad named Eddie O'Rourke.

PLAZA THEATRE

Fred F. Finklehoffe and Chester Ersline, who composed the producing, writing and directing team on "The Egg and I," co-starring Claudette Colbert and Fred MacMurray, now at the Plaza Theatre, are both lawyers. Featured in the cast of the Erskine-Finklehoffe best seller are Marjorie Main, Louise Allbritton, Percy Kilbride, Billy House, Richard Long and Fuzzy Knight. "The Egg and I" is a Universal-International picture.

RIO THEATRE

"Hello, Moscow!" now being shown at the Rio Theatre, is a Russian review of talented youngsters who sing, dance and play instruments. This happy, youthful story, half-documentary, half sentimental drama, avoids the twin pitfalls of precocity and infantilism.

LONDON—The main underground installation of Pluto—the undersea pipeline that maintained a non-stop flow of fuel from base to front-line units during the war—is to remain part of the national defence system.

Hearts And Chowder: A Camera Drama In Three Acts Proving All's Fur In Love

"Well, how about that," says Perky the Pup. "Here's soup in the saucer and I'm not getting in on it. This calls for a bit of canine cunning to lure that ugly cat away from the chowder." Thus begins our little camera drama in a Sacramento kitchen.

"Ah, you lovely creature, how exotic you look tonight," he whispers into her shell-like ear. Fluffy the cat falls for the line.

But what does Perky do? As soon as he gets Fluffy up in the clouds, he dives down into the soup. "See what happened to me, girls," wails Fluffy, "and don't be a dope. You just can't trust a man!" The curtain falls as the fur begins to fly.

Auction 'Glenlyon' For $15,750 Here

O. H. Dorman, 776 Oliver Street, Tuesday purchased "Glenlyon," 10-room home of the late Lorne Campbell, former president of the West Kootenay Power and Light Company, for $15,750. Gladwell, Kilshaw, auctioneer, is continuing with the sale of furnishings today, from which $16,000 has already been realized. He said this was the largest two-day sale in the province.

Mr. Kilshaw reported that approximately $7,000 had been received for rugs, one of which sold for $950. Silver, glassware, and china have also been sold.

Another interesting auction will be held Monday when "The Hermitage," country residence on the Somass River near Alberni, will go on sale. The owner, Cluny C. Luke, is leaving for his villa on the French Riviera, it is reported.

Next local auction of historic home furnishings will be of the furnishings of Mrs. E. G. Prior, widow of a former lieutenant-governor of the province.

Roasting is believed to destroy part of the vitamin value of beef.

Faces Of Japan, Yesterday And Today

This was the face of Japan when the U.S. forces marched into Tokyo in September, 1945. Two years of peace have washed away the tears and cleared the rubble, but the country is far from recovery.

Today the Japanese face reflects serious contemplation of the future. The nation pins her hopes on children like this Tokyo boy, whose fresh young minds can be trained to rebuild Japan along democratic lines.

Collingwood Mayor Guiltless Of Bribe

BARRIE, Ont. (CP)—A Simcoe County jury which deliberated 10 minutes Wednesday acquitted Mayor Graydon Kohl of Collingwood, Ont., on a municipal corruption charge.

Mayor Kohl was charged with municipal corruption in agreeing to accept a $1,100 bribe from C. J. Birmingham, a contractor with a $11,000 contract from the Dominion Department of Public Works to build a wharf at Collingwood. It was charged the mayor promised to remove council opposition to the location of the wharf if he was given 1 per cent of the cost of the contract. The mayor had pleaded not guilty.

Chiefs See R.C.N. Fire Display At H.M.C. Dockyard

The R.C.N. Dockyard Fire Department was host Wednesday to over 100 visiting B.C. fire chiefs. Fire Chief J. D. Crowthers of the dockyard fire department demonstrated the efficiency of his men and equipment to the visitors with fire-fighting displays and fire-tug trials.

The fire-fighting exhibition was held at the edge of Esquimalt harbor, where several small tanks and one large tank were topped with oil and ignited. The smaller fires were extinguished with various types of first aid fire extinguishers.

Oil fires in the large tank were fought with high and low velocity fog nozzles. The fire-smothering effects of foam were also demonstrated on the large tank. Firemen fought the flames from both the lee and windward approaches.

The dockyard tug, manned by Capt. Gordon Lay, dockyard deputy fire chief, and four men, carried out pumping trials. The tug's 12-hose lines and three monitors discharged 3,000 gallons of water a minute.

The visiting chiefs inspected the 6,178 pounds of fire-fighting equipment on the 64-foot fire tug. With her two 200-h.p. diesel driven fire pumps and their numerous fittings, the tug carries 2,500 feet of hose, six large 602 extinguishers and 50 gallons of foam compound.

Before leaving for a trip around the harbor aboard the Admiral's barge, B. Nixon, Vancouver deputy fire marshal, and Chief Firemen C. Ricky, R. Mather and J. Newall of Vancouver summed up the display as "an excellent show."

Fire Chief Gordon Waddell of Burnaby remarked "I'm going to have a good look at that fire tug. I wonder how much they cost."

'Accidental Death

Trace Development Of Reforestation

Victoria Natural History Society held its monthly meeting in the Provincial Library, when Harold McWilliams of the B.C. Forest Service, traced the development of reforestation in the province in the past 20 years. He also showed a color film illustrating the preparation of the seed, growth in the nurseries and setting out of the young trees. Dr. Clifford Carl moved a vote of thanks to Mr. McWilliams. During the evening, a silent tribute was paid to the memory of J. F. Palmer, late chairman of the botany section of the society.

Last Prisoners To Leave Devil's Island For France

PARIS—By year's end the last victim of the notorious "doubt" system—the last "liberé" from Devil's Island—will have been repatriated.

Having abolished its savage French Guiana "Green Hell," the French government has speeded up the return of ex-convicts and their parole to the Salvation Army for rehabilitation.

By mid-August, almost 2,400 had been brought back out of the more than 3,000 who, though they had served full sentences for their crimes, were stranded for life in Guiana until Salvation Army Brigadier Charles Pean induced the government to shut down Devil's Island and abolish the system for which it stood.

By Aug. 20 about 800 "liberés" remained in Guiana. Government shipping was available to handle only 50 a month. But the Salvation Army was seeking money to charter special vessels to get the rest home by the New Year.

There are, also, 2,718 prisoners

PEAN

Liberés arrive in Paris: Of the more than 2,000 freed through Pean's efforts, only three have been convicted of new crimes. Several dropped dead from shock when their banishment ended.

who still have time left to serve. But even these are out of Devil's Island—and its even worse sister islands, Royal and St. Joseph's. Within two years it is hoped to return these—as many as do not complete their terms—to new, decent prisons in France.

The 2,386 "liberés" already brought back and the 800 to come this year are men sent to Guiana under the vicious law that was repealed in 1938, after a 10-year fight.

Under that system any criminal sent to the penal colony for less than eight years had to remain in Guiana for an equal time after his release, supporting himself as best he could. Then he had to pay his own way if he was to get back to France. Of the 10 per cent who even stayed alive more than five years in the terrible conditions there, few could raise money for return passage. Most were doomed to stay there for life.

A convict whose term was eight years or more did not have even the technical privilege of going home. He was required to stay there for life, after leaving prison.

Most of the "liberés" were found utterly demoralized, physically and morally, by Brigadier Charles Pean of the Salvation Army and his fellow workers. The shock of getting back to France was so great that several dropped dead as they set foot on the home soil. Of 800 returned before war suspended the program, almost a third were too weak to survive food and fuel shortages. Several hundred never will be brought back, because doctors say they could not stand the trip, and the Salvation Army is establishing permanent hospitals for them in Guiana.

But the rehabilitation program has worked wonders with most of the repatriates. Of more than 2,000 liberated through Pean only three have been convicted of new crimes. About 20 more have been picked up for technical offences—mostly for ignoring the police regulation forbidding them to go back to the region where their original crime was committed.

More than two-thirds are living with their families. Many have married and have children and seem well adjusted to community life. After special job training, most of them have been helped to find work by employers, government services and trade unions.

Brigadier Charles Pean was 19 when he entered the French branch of the Salvation Army. He joined them with one objective—to work for abolition of Devil's Island. Today his life's goal is in sight.

Napoleon III established the colony more than 90 years ago. As many as 90 per cent of the 70,000 criminals sent there died. Pean concentrated first on getting help to the liberated convicts. After years of agitation, he won permission to visit the colony in 1928. He established work-shops and farms where these liberated convicts could work for wages to cover half their passage home. The Salvation Army provided the other half. Pean made five trips to the island. The French government invited him to serve on the commission which drafted the law abolishing the colony.

$100 Cash Theft From Grocery Store

Between the hours of 4 and 5 yesterday afternoon, the Camosun Grocery, 1608 Camosun Street, was robbed of about $100 in cash. Following a report of the robbery from David Andrews, proprietor, Detective David Donaldson investigated and was told of the money which had been taken from a box at the rear of the store. The proprietor said several customers had been in the store between 4 and 5 but he did not see any of them near the cash box.

Attempted Bribe Charge Goes To Higher Court

VANCOUVER (CP)—Magistrate H. S. Wood Wednesday ordered the trial of John G. Sinclair, 28, transferred from the police court to a higher court.

Sinclair, charged with attempting to bribe two police officers, is alleged to have offered Detective Stan Craig and Constable Angus MacDonald $50 each to "forget the whole thing," while they were investigating a cigar stand suspected of being a bookie establishment.

Just 7 Years Since Blitz In Full Fury

Seven years ago, in September, 1940, the German all-out air offensive against England was at its height. On Sept. 15, the fiercest assault of all was beaten off by the R.A.F. with a conservative estimated loss to the enemy of 185 aircraft destroyed. Between Sept. 6 and Oct. 5 at least 883 Nazi planes were lost over England.

Canadian troops stationed in Britain shared with British civilians the horrors of the blitz and, by the war's end more than 400 Canadians had been killed or wounded as result of enemy action in the United Kingdom. It was during these September raids that Lieut. J. M. S. Patton and Capt. D. W. Cunningham, both of the Royal Canadian Engineers won respectively the first George Cross and George Medal awarded to any members of the Canadian army.

Attempt On Lives Of Czech Cabinet Ministers Foiled

PRAGUE (AP)—The interior ministry announced today that an attempt to assassinate three Czech cabinet ministers, with explosive packets disguised as perfume had been foiled Wednesday.

Newspapers called the assassination attempts a political plot, but fixed no specific blame.

The three targets for the packets were Vice-Premier Peter Zenkl, chairman of the National Socialist Party; Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk, and Prokop Drtina, Justice Minister, who also is a National Socialist.

Security Police, searching for a man known to have mailed the three packets, credited Vaclav Spilka, 60, Czech Legionnaire and veteran of the Russian revolution, with averting the death of the three men by his quick thinking.

Only one of the bombs arrived at its destination, the office of Zenk. His personal secretary, Frantisek Ambroz, escaped death because Spilka had snipped a suspicious bit of string, which proved to have been the key to the explosive.

TWO INTERCEPTED

The bomb, which police said had enough strength to destroy the whole room, did not explode and similar packages addressed to Masaryk and Ortina were intercepted before delivery.

Police said a man with chestnut hair, 40 to 45 years old, posted the boxes Tuesday in Prague. They said he cautioned the post office to handle them with care, since they contained perfume.

Motive for the assassination attempts was not immediately clear.

The National Socialist ministers have been the target for the last 10 days of attacks in Communist organs because they voted against a Communist tax-the-wealthy program to pay farm subsidies.

16 Western Powers May Ask U.S. For $19,000,000,000

PARIS (AP)—A participant in the Paris economic conference said the 16 western European powers involved will seek slightly less than $19,000,000,000 in U.S. aid under the Marshall plan to enable them to buy food and productive equipment abroad in the next four years.

This participant, who asked that his name and nationality be withheld, predicted the general committee for co-operation would arrive at this figure by trimming an estimate of its sub-committee on balances of payments. The general committee probably would begin studying the sub-committee report today.

TILL END OF 1951

The sub-committee figured western Europe's balance-of-payment deficit for 1948 through 1951 at $19,726,000,000, which figure the general committee is expected to reduce.

If a country needs more imports from other countries than it can pay for with exports or available credits, it has a balance-of-payment deficit with those countries.

The conference participant said sub-committees on food and agriculture, transport, fuel and energy, and iron and steel calculated that the 16 countries in the four years would need consumer and capital goods worth $35,096,000,000 from the western hemisphere.

Part of this could be obtained with exports or surplus-payment balances abroad, but there still would remain $19,726,000,000 worth, by estimate of the sub-committee on balances of payment, which western Europe would have no means of paying for without U.S. help.

Port Said Rioters Shout Insults At U.N., Britain, U.S.

CAIRO (CP)—Large crowds of demonstrators today tried to set fire to the British consulate in Port Said, stoned the United States consulate there, and destroyed the statue of Ferdinand de Lesseps, the French engineer who built the Suez Canal, following failure by the United Nations' Security Council to order British troops out of Egypt.

The demonstrations were staged at Port Said, in the British-occupied Canal Zone, and at the coastal city of Alexandria, Cairo, for the most part, was quiet.

The demonstrators began marching through Port Said soon after news of the Security Council's failure to reach a decision in the British-Egyptian case had become known, shouting "Down with the Security Council; Down with Britain; Long live Egypt and the Sudan; Long live Russia, Poland and Syria."

Egyptian police prevented the Port Said crowd from firing the British consulate there, after which the demonstrators proceeded to a British camp on Kitchener Street, but Egyptian police surrounded the area and prevented a possible clash there.

The statue of De Lesseps, which stood at the entrance to the Port Said street which bears his name, was destroyed by demonstrators shouting: "Down with imperialist France."

After a brief lull, the Port Said demonstrations began anew with shouts against Foreign Secretary Bevin and Sir Alexander Cadogan, British representative on the U.N. Security Council. Reinforced police again clashed with the crowd.

At Alexandria, a number of policemen and demonstrators were taken to hospitals following a police attempt to disperse 4,000 workers of the Fallaturri Nationale cotton goods factory, who had gone on strike in protest against the Security Council's failure to act in the Egyptian case.

Charges Not Cause Of Lee's Recall

ROME (AP)—Lt. Gen. John C. H. Lee, whose administration of the Mediterranean theatre of operations has been under War Department investigation, announced today he would leave the command "as soon after R-day as possible" and return to the United States. He told a press conference he was leaving "in compliance with orders issued June 10."

That was before published charges by Scripps-Howard reporter Robert Ruark of abuses in Lee's administration prompted the War Department to send the Inspector-General, Maj. Gen. Ira T. Wyche, to Italy to investigate. Lee announced that first steps in the withdrawal of Allied military forces from Italy in accordance with the 90-day provision of the peace treaty would begin tomorrow.

The Ads With Only One Mission—To Serve You

We who live today, in the greatest Ad-age of all time, hear again and again the adage of the times, "It pays to advertise." And we know it pays. We see the evidence that it pays on every billboard and neon sign, in every magazine and radio commercial. But such advertising, with its clever copy-writing and fancy art work, costs too much for the individual to pay.

But there are Ads whose only purpose is to fill YOUR needs, their one mission—to serve YOU.

They are Times Want Ads. They have no costly illustrations, and need none. Nor do they need to rely on catch-phrase copy to attract readers. They are short, simple, inexpensive messages thousands look to every day for fulfillment of every need under the sun. Through them want-satisfaction is quick and sure, because they introduce buyer to seller, renter to tenant, worker to employer, and loser to finder.

Whatever need you may have—Money, Help, Housing, Job, or anything else—the easy way to fill it is the way thousands of Victorians have for over 60 years... entrust your mission to a Times Want Ad.
